Smaller Nations Fear Summit Talks Actions

Ike Heads for Home After Friendship Tour of 11 Nations

Cheered by Acclaim Given Him in Good Will Crusade

BY RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
Casablanca, Morocco — President Eisenhower headed for home tonight, winding up the crusade for friendship and peace in freedom which he carried to 11 nations. A thunderous acclaim by about 500,000 jubilant Moroccans and a generous send-off capped the president's history-making tour, the most extended foreign trip ever undertaken by an American president.

Inspires Trust
The 19-day journey, on which the president was cheered by perhaps nine million well-wishers, encompassed visits to Italy, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, Tunisia, Spain and Morocco, as well as a western summit meeting in Paris.

The conclusion of the president's far-ranging venture in personal diplomacy still found him grinning and radiating confidence that he had managed to spread to millions a feeling of trust in the sincerity of American motives and policies. Only time will disclose the long-term effects. There were many signs of at least a temporary boost to American prestige as a result of the tour.

The president's orange-nosed jetliner headed westward and was due at Andrews air force base outside Washington at 10 p.m. C.S.T. A refueling stop was planned at Gander, Newfoundland.

The president was received with wild enthusiasm and one of the most colorful welcomes.

Living Costs Rise but Pace Slows Down

Labor Statistics Chief Sees Relative Stability Till Spring

Washington — Living costs crept upward to another all-time high in November, but the rise was at a slower pace than in other recent months, the government reported today.

Consumer prices advanced less than one-tenth of one percent to a level 25.6 per cent above the 1947-49 average. A month earlier, prices were 25.5 per cent above the base period.

It was the sixth time in seven months that prices, as measured by the labor department's consumer price index, advanced to a new peak.

The November rise was less marked than in September and October, and Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said he looks for relative price stability until next spring.

Food Prices Down
A continued downtrend in food prices helped check the November rise in the index. The big factors on the upside were increases in charges for services and for durable goods, including new autos.

The November rise in the index will bring pay increases to about 170,000 workers who get cost-of-living increases under union contracts.

About 70,000 meat packing workers will get an hourly wage boost of one cent, and 55,000 aircraft workers will get two cents. The other workers are in scattered industries and will variously get one to three cents an hour more.

The department also announced that the buying power of factory workers dropped by two-tenths of 1 per cent in November. The average after-tax earnings of a factory worker with a family of four declined about five cents to $79.7 a week. Coupled with the increase in prices, this reduced his buying power. However, buying power was six-tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year earlier, and almost equal to the November peak reached in 1956.

May be Affected Even Though They Have No Voice in Decisions

BY GEORGE MCARTHUR
Paris — Belgium, Greece and Turkey expressed fears today they may be affected by decisions taken at an east-west summit conference in which they had no part.

The three little nations — supported in part by Norway and Italy — spoke up at a closed session of the Atlantic alliance's ministerial council.

The council gave full support to the western Big Three proposal for summit talks with the Russians but with a proviso for prior consultation among the allies.

Strong hints came from Moscow, meanwhile, that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will accept the western invitation to a summit session this spring with the United States, Britain and France.

Sec. of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Sec. Selwyn Lloyd took pains to reassure doubtful smaller nations.

Want Consultations
Herter and Lloyd assured the other ministers that no nation's interests would be jeopardized behind its back. NATO officials emphasized that the issue did not develop to the point of acrimony.

It arose after the Turkish and Belgian foreign ministers

Ansul Chemical Company's Ether Division Burned Out

Marinette — A triple explosion ripped the Ansul Chemical company plant Monday, taking the lives of two men and injuring four others, one critically.

Milo Jorgenson, 40, a welder, died of burns soon after the blasts and fire occurred. Fred LeSage Jr., 36, died at 12:45 a.m. today in Marinette General hospital. LeSage, a member of the plant's maintenance crew, had leaped from the second floor of the burning building with his clothing aflame.

Carl Falkenberg, 44, who was welding a storage tank with Jorgenson when the explosion occurred, was described as in "very critical condition" today.

Walls Buckled
Fire Chief Peter Berg said the searing flames burned out the interior of the firm's ether division, a concrete and steel structure. The intense heat buckled the walls and caved in the building's roof. Damage could amount to several hundred thousand dollars, Berg said.

Officials of the firm put immediate and strict security measures into effect and refused to allow newsmen or photographers to enter the

Dr. Myrl Nelson Davis, 57, of 826 E. Alton street, a physicist with Kimberly-Clark corporation for 30 years, died of a coronary attack about 7:30 a.m. today on his way to work.

Dr. Davis stopped his car in front of the Verbrick Service station, Menasha, about 7:20 a.m. today. The station owner called police and the Neenah ambulance, but Dr. Davis was dead on arrival at Theda Clark Memorial hospital. Winnebago County coroner Dr. G. A. Steele said death was due to a coronary attack.

Dr. Davis joined K-C in 1929 as the first full-time physicist employed in the paper industry. He graduated from Milwaukee College and the University of Wisconsin, where he received a PhD in physics. He was a group leader in ap-

Morse's Name to be Entered in Oregon's Presidential Primary

Washington — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) stepped into the race for the Democratic nomination for president today with an announcement that his name will go before Oregon voters in the state's May 20 presidential preference primary.

"Although I would have preferred not to have entered in the Oregon race, I shall not run away from a good political fight if it is inevitable," Morse said.

Morse, 59, who has been elected to the senate both as a Republican and as a Democrat, said that his political supporters are entering him in the Oregon primary against his wishes.

He said Democrats in the District of Columbia also have urged him to enter the May 3 presidential primary here.

Timothy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Probst, 2020 N. Union street, is suffering from cancer and his parents say, "It's only a matter of time."

The brown-eyed lad has been told he can go home "when Santa comes," but his parents explain that if he's not feeling well Dec. 24, he will stay in the hospital.

Hope for Homecoming
"But we sure hope he can come home. I went ahead with Christmas shopping for him anyway," his mother said. "He'll get a holster set, a banjo, a musical telephone and a Joe Palooka punching bag. I also got him some new clothes. He won't be able to use them, but..." her voice trailed off.

Cranberry Ban Suit Planned

Institute Seeks To Recover 15 to 20 Million Dollars

Boston — The National Cranberry Institute will seek federal government payments of 15 to 20 million dollars for damages the industry says it sustained through a food and drug administration announcement last month.

The food and drug administration's pre-Thanksgiving announcement that some berries were thought to have been contaminated by a weed killer caused heavy damage in the marketing of the 1959 crop, and may cause losses in the 1960 crop, Institute President Orrin Colley said yesterday.

"Cranberry growers are asking the government for indemnification," Colley said. "because of the unprecedented action by Welfare Sec. Arthur S. Flemming who deviated from accepted policies of his food and drug division and publicly singled out the cranberry industry at the peak of its marketing season without giving the industry opportunity to defend itself against the charges."

Father and Son Shot to Death

Younger Man May Have Killed Self in Remorse Over Error

West Bend — A feed mill operator and his elderly father were found shot to death in their farm home near here early today.

Dr. James Albrecht, Washington county coroner, theorized that Marvin Kahnt, 59, mistook his 82-year-old father, Frank, for a prowler, shot and killed him, and after discovering what he had done, killed himself in remorse.

The shotgun pellets that killed Marvin also struck his 72-year-old wife and partly paralyzed her.

Renter Finds Bodies
The bodies of Marvin and his father were found by Philip Marquardt, 57, of route 1, Kewaskum, who was renting the Kahnt's farm buildings in the town of Farmington and had come to do the chores. The body of Frank was in a yard outside the home six miles northwest of here. Marquardt went inside and found Mrs. Kahnt lying injured on theavenport. The home has no telephone. Marquardt then found the body of the younger Kahnt.

Mrs. Kahnt told deputies she and her husband came home from the feed mill about 5 p.m. Monday. Her husband complained that someone had left the front door open. She told him it must have been his father, but he said it might have been a prowler. He grabbed a shotgun, went outside, met his father, shot him and then returned to the house and shot himself under the chin.

Signals From Stars Recorded By 4-Stage Rocket

Washington — Canadian and American scientists sent a 4-stage rocket into space at Wallops Island, Va., today to record radio signals emanating from the stars.

The complicated rocket incorporated a new X-248 engine as its fourth stage, and the experiment also was to test how this worked in the vacuum of space.

The rocket was set to reach a height of 500 miles. The national aeronautics and space administration could not say immediately the exact height the rocket reached, but it apparently "went good."

The rocket was in flight for about 18 minutes and came down in the Atlantic about 600 miles from the Virginia coastal island.

Merchants Say Merry Christmas In Classified Ads

In the classified pages of tonight's Post-Crescent, you'll find special Christmas greetings from Fox Cities merchants. This is one way they have of saying "Thank You" for your support and business in the last year.

A highlight of these greetings is a series of attractive panels prepared by Post-Crescent staff artist Fred Schmidt. The panels present a visual picture of some of the most favorite Christmas carols placed on a background of part of the words and music of the carol itself.

My Finest Christmas First Reformatory Holiday Showed Youthful Prisoner His Goal in Life

BY PRISONER 3017
As told to Charles House

I was imprisoned just as the Christmas season of 1958 was starting to fill the air. I was 19 years old and I can't tell you—I just can't—how terrible I felt when they let me in through those big double doors of heavy bars. But I can tell you one thing. That Christmas was the best Christmas I ever had. But first, I ought to explain.

I come from a little town near Appleton where everybody knows me. They know also I am a prisoner in the Wisconsin

Second in a Series

State reformatory at Green Bay. And they know that I am serving a term for the crime of arson.

Mr. Skaff, the superintendent, told me that your newspaper is going to hide my identity, but you don't have to. I committed arson and I am paying a penalty for it and there isn't any point in hiding it. Besides, I want people back home to know I understand what a bad thing I did, and I want them to know that I intend to be a useful citizen and that I will do my very best in everything. I want them to know it. So if you want to print my name, why, it will be all right.

Crime a Nightmare

"Why did I commit the crime? Now it seems like a terrible nightmare, but then I was a smart aleck and I thought I knew everything. I was kind of cocky. Well, under certain conditions some people will react in different ways and I don't know why I did what I did. But I do know that I didn't have an excuse. There's no excuse for such a thing.

In court, the judge took into consideration the fact that my mom and dad are wonderful people and also that I was never in any kind of trouble. I got sentenced to three years in the reformatory when I might have got as much as 15 years.

Christmases on my dad's farm were the kind that you remember because they were so beautiful and because you could

Vessel on Reef Off Cuban Coast

Miami — The 159-foot Dutch motor vessel June ran aground last night on a reef off the northwest coast of Cuba and is in danger of breaking up, the coast guard here reported today.

A radio message from the ship's captain, whose name was not learned, said he was unable to lower his lifeboats because of the heavy surf. Eight men were aboard the ship.

At 8:32 a.m. today, the captain said a small schooner had arrived at the scene and was lowering a boat to help, but getting men off was going to be a problem.

The ship, en route from Nassau in the Bahamas to Guatemala, hit the reef nine miles east of Buena Vista lighthouse. During the night, increasing winds rocked the vessel and threatened to break it up.

Winter Greeted With Snow, Sleet in State

Wisconsin — Cloudy with occasional periods of light snow over the north becoming mixed with freezing rain or sleet and spreading over remainder of the state tonight and Wednesday. Outlook for Thursday: Cloudy to partly cloudy, with not much change in temperature.

Appleton — Temperature for the 24-hour period ending 9 a.m. today: High 23, low 18. Temperature at 10 a.m. today 23. Barometer reading 30.40 inches with wind south southeast five miles an hour.

See No Headway in Steel Negotiations

Plans Sprout for 93 Separate Bargaining Sessions Across The United States on Sunday

Washington — Federal mediators plowed ahead today without visible progress while plans sprouted for 93 separate bargaining sessions across the country next Sunday.

Seemingly to the surprise of some unionists, industry negotiators bowed quickly yesterday to the demand of United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald for company-by-company negotiations.

This scrambled the bargaining picture. McDonald apparently hoped that by bringing the responsible executives of every big and little steel firm into direct talks, he could crack the industry front which has held almost completely solid for eight months against the union's wage and benefit demands.

No Signs of Crack

There was no immediate sign, however, that any of the smaller companies were

Tax Group Moves Nearer Suggestion

Adopts Statement State Levy Should be Competitively Good

Madison — The citizens revenue study commission Monday moved a recommendation for basic tax reform in the state when it adopted a statement that the Wisconsin tax system should be made competitively favorable for business.

The 19 member citizens committee had worked through the day on a statement of "underlying principles," most of them fairly innocuous and none of them calculated to stir up any argument, when Howard Packard, a Racine businessman and member of the group, offered an amendment.

R. Conrad Cooper, left, chief negotiator for the steel industry, and David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers union, shake hands in Washington after their first bargaining session in 10 days.

Summit Series Could Affect Selection of 1960 Party Nominees

May Put Premium on Candidates With International Experience

Washington — The proposed series of summit meetings may cause both parties to put a premium on international experience in the choice of their 1960 presidential nominees.

President Eisenhower, along with the heads of Britain and France, spoke of the desirability of a series of summit meetings yesterday as they formally proposed a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris in April.

If Russia agrees, the timing of any subsequent sessions would be dictated in part by the progress made in the original big four talks.

Decisive Meeting

But politicians here are of the general opinion that if the allied idea is carried out, the next president may find himself involved shortly after his inauguration in what could be a decisive meeting with the other heads of states.

This is likely to emphasize at both July conventions the possibility that the party may be nominating the man who will have to deal with Khrushchev in efforts to end the cold war.

The general effect of this could be to enhance the nomination prospects of presidential aspirants who have had experience in this field. Vice President Richard M. Nixon's current popularity is attributed in many quarters to the way he handled himself in his widely publicized "kitchen debate" with Khrushchev in Moscow.

Nixon also sat in on some of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks during the Soviet premier's visit to this country.

Potential Rival

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a potential rival for the GOP nomination, had a brief meeting with Khrushchev in New York during the tour, and later described it as cordial.

While they might benefit from any summit agreement upholding Eisenhower's prestige as a peacemaker, Nixon

Housewives Target of Deceptive Advertising

Business Bureau Spokesman Cites Case Of Women Seeking Employment at Home

Washington — The housewife who would like to earn a few dollars at home is a favorite target of deceptive employment advertising, a spokesman for the Association of Better Business Bureaus said today.

Edwin M. Lockard, who is also general manager of the Baltimore Better Business Bureau, told about it today in a statement at a federal trade commission conference on deceptive advertising.

He cited promotional material put out by a Baltimore firm speaking of "numerous affiliations" with businesses needing envelopes addressed and opportunities to earn "$35 or more per week for a few hours a night." Women were asked for $2 "to cover cost of mailing, listing and registration."

Postal Probe

Bureau investigation, Lockard said, disclosed that the advertiser was a newly formed company which had never previously offered employment and could not provide evidence it had worked to offer. After a postal investigation, the firm went out of business and the post office returned to the senders the letters containing the fee, Lockard said.

The FTC concludes today a 2-day session for representatives of 47 consumers, civic and other organizations, seeking to strengthen defenses against misleading advertising and other deceptive sales practices.

Lockard applauded the effort but suggested care "to avoid creating a national neurosis that would cause the feeling that all advertising is suspect."

Rebel Leaders In Algeria Reline Forces

Tough Military Man Named as Premier In Cabinet Shuffle

Cairo — Algerian rebel leaders were reported today to have reshuffled their provisional government-in-exile and named a tough military commander as premier.

Reliable North African sources said the new cabinet would be a 5-man military government headed by Krim Belkacem, former vice premier and defense minister.

Belkacem is a shadowy figure who has been involved mainly with the military conduct of the 5-year-old rebellion and rarely has met with outsiders. Last year he was quoted as saying that his men would not lay down their arms unless France recognizes Algeria's independence.

Ferhat Abbas, moderate premier of the old cabinet, was reportedly named the new government's official spokesman.

Other Members

Other members of the new cabinet reportedly are Abdel Hafiz Boussouf, deputy premier and minister of armaments; Omar Ouseddik, minister of social affairs; Youssef Ben Khedda, foreign affairs and interior; and Akhdar Ben Toubal, finance and economy.

All held different posts in the rebel cabinet set up here in September 1958. Recently it shifted its headquarters to Tunis.

Word of the new cabinet came to sources here by cable from Tripoli, Libya, where the rebel leadership now is meeting. The sources said the rebels had decided to locate the official seat of their government within Algeria, although full cabinet meetings would be held in Tripoli.

This apparently was intended as gesture of defiance toward the French. The cabinet shuffle follows weeks of intense maneuvering toward negotiations with the French that never really got started.

Mother to Join Child, Husband in New York

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. — A 24-year-old stripteaser, who says "a vision like an angel" told her to send her child to her estranged husband in New York, is on the way there herself now.

Mrs. Maria Leen left here on a bus last night to rejoin her husband and 5-year-old daughter Evelyn. The husband, Jung (Bing) Leen, sent the money for her fare when he learned she was in jail here.

Mrs. Leen said she used all her money to buy a ticket for Evelyn last Thursday.

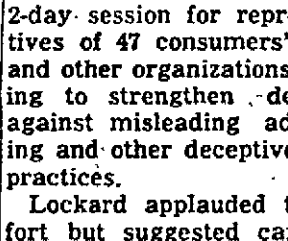

The child, traveling alone, aroused interest on her trip from Miami to New York but there was no one to meet her and she was put in a children's shelter. There Leen, her stepfather, picked her up.

Mrs. Leen said she had worked as a stripper in Miami for four months and the child was living with friends.

Last week, she said, "I had some kind of vision. It was like an angel, telling me that what I was doing was wrong, that everything was wrong."

She said she had just enough money to put Evelyn on the bus and began trying to hitchhike a ride to New York herself when police picked her up on a vagrancy charge.

She is due in New York Wednesday.

Appeal Verdict On Technicality

Indianapolis — Connie Nicholas wants her conviction in the killing of her married lover of 15 years set aside because the indictment failed to say there was gunpowder in the bullets with which the gun was loaded.

An appeal brief filed with the Indiana supreme court Monday said the indictment accused the 45-year-old Indianapolis divorcee of shooting wealthy Forrest Teel with a revolver loaded with metal bullets, rather than gunpowder and metal bullets.

They said the indictment should have specified how the bullets were propelled into Teel's body.

Mrs. Nicholas was charged with first degree murder but was convicted of manslaughter last spring. Teel was shot to death in his car July 31, 1958, outside the apartment of a younger woman he had been dating.

3 Demonstrators Killed When Police Open Fire

Karachi, Pakistan — Three demonstrators were killed and eight injured in Kandahar, Afghanistan, Monday when troops and police opened fire, radio Kabul reported.

The Afghan radio said "certain seditious elements instigated a number of people not to pay taxes to the government and they held demonstrations."

It was the first organized civilian outbreak against the government within memory here. Observers said they believe the casualty toll was much higher than that given by the broadcast.

Barrymore's Estate Winds Up in Red

Los Angeles — Actor John Barrymore's estate wound up more than $31,000 in the red because of federal income taxes.

A final accounting in court Monday listed assets of $10,812.54, mostly from the recent sale of his interest in three old movies.

But he owed more than $40,000 in taxes for 1939, 1940 and 1941. He died in 1942.

Consequently, there was nothing left for his three children: Diana Barrymore, John Drew Barrymore and Mrs. Dolores Barrymore Bedell.

Isaac Watts Noted

Men of Many Backgrounds Composed Beloved Carols

BY HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP News Service Writer

Isaac Watts, often called the "father of hymnody," came into the world when Christmas carol singing was regarded as "ye work of ye devil."

It was the latter half of the 17th century, a time of great religious upheaval in Europe. Calvin's insistence that "the Bible alone" be used in public worship had driven popular hymns out of many churches, particularly in England among the strict Puritan sects.

Instead of hymns, the congregation chanted selected passages from the scriptures, usually the Psalms. The clerk intoned the first line in a monotone and the people, as Watts once complained, responded with "dull indifference."

Watts, one of nine children, was the son of a boarding house keeper and deacon of family attended at Southampton.

"Then make some better ones," challenged his father. Watts, although in poor health most of his life, responded by writing more than 600. At first they were called "Watts' Whims," but their popularity grew rapidly. When Benjamin Franklin set up his printing press at Philadelphia in 1741, the first book issued was "Watts' Psalms and Hymns."

In all, Watts filled 52 volumes with his hymns and his "Joy to the World" has become a cherished Christmas classic.

Guest 36 Years

Watts wrote "Joy to the World" in 1719 while staying as a house guest at the estate of Sir Thomas and Lady Apsley outside London. In that visit he undoubtedly set the all time guest record. He came for two weeks and stayed for 36 years. His gracious hosts complained that it didn't seem long enough.

Challenged by Father

His career as a hymn writer began when he complained one day about the uninspired songs heard in the church the

The music we hear today to "Joy to the World" was added more than 150 years after Watts wrote the words. It was composed in about 1870 by Lowell Mason, Medfield, Mass., and based somewhat loosely on themes found in Handel's "Messiah."

When Watts died in 1748, his place in the world of religious music already had been pre-empted by Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism. The brothers went to America in 1735 as missionaries to the new colony at Georgia, where Charles was to be secretary to Gen. James Oglethorpe. Ill health forced him to return less than a year later, but he never forgot the marvelous singing of the German Moravian colonists.

Wesleyan Hymns

As the "poet laureate of Methodism," he wrote more than 6,000 hymns, finding inspiration almost anywhere and writing with ease under the most difficult conditions. Once he fell off his horse while accompanying brother John on an evangelical mission and complained that the resulting injury "spoiled all my hymn writing for that day."

He dashed off "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" while walking to church one Christmas day and thrilling to the tumult of London's church bells. The first two lines, as originally written in 1739, were "Hark, how the welkin rings

The friend, the Rev. Martin Madan, altered the opening stanza in 1760 to the version we now know. For 100 years the carol was sung to the same tune as Wesley's Easter hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," but in 1856 Dr. W. H. Cummings, organist at Waltham Abbey, fitted it to the music of Mendelssohn's "Festgesang."

Inappropriate Choice

Mendelssohn would have been as surprised as Wesley. He wrote the music to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the invention of printing and insisted it "never would do to sacred words."

Martin Luther, the great German reformer, was also prodigious author of Christmas carols, but it is doubted if he wrote "Away in a Manger," sometimes known as "Luther's Cradle Hymn." The carol, in the opinion of most authorities, originated among German Lutherans in Pennsylvania and was taken back to Germany in the 1640s.

But Luther, as poet Coleridge said, "did as much for the reformation by his hymns as by his translation of the Bible." In addition to writing dozens of Christmas carols, Luther arranged and published "Good King Wenceslaus" and popularized "O Tannenbaum," the Christmas tree carol. According to legend, Luther was fascinated with the way the stars seemed to glisten in the tips of the pine trees while walking in the woods one Christmas Eve. He cut a small fir tree and set out candles for stars to recreate the scene for his small children.

Cradle Carol

He wrote "From Heaven of Bethlehem."

Above to Earth I Come," his most famous carol, as a Christmas cradle song for his son Paul. Bach harmonized this song for his Christmas oratorio. German soldiers sang it in the trenches during a Christmas lull in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. French soldiers responded with Adolphe Adam's "Canticle of Christmas," better known as "O Holy Night." Adam, composer of the ballet "Giselle" and several operas, deserves a distinguished place among the makers of Christmas music. His "O Holy Night" with its magnificent "O Night Divine" refrain is by far the best loved of all Christmas carols among professional musicians and has been sung by most of the world's great concert and opera stars.

Tomorrow: "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Christmas Fire Threat Can be Minimized

Care of Tree Key to Happier, Safer Holidays

Christmas, along with its joys, also brings threats of fire. Yet you can take steps either to avoid fire or, if it occurs, to make sure it causes as few injuries as possible.

Fox Cities fire chiefs offer the following tips on selecting a Christmas tree, decorating it while keeping it fire safe, and preventing damage in case fire does strike:

Choose a small tree instead of a large one. It can be just as beautiful, and less of a hazard.

In decorating a tree while keeping it safe, it is best to keep the tree outside as long as possible, not setting it up until you are ready. When you do, put it in a place where it does not block a doorway, yet away from fireplaces and radiators and in the coolest part of the house.

Fireproof

Use fireproof decorations, avoiding unfireproofed cotton or paper. Be sure your strings of tree lights are in good condition. When buying new sets, look for the Underwriters' Laboratories label. Don't use lighted candles on a tree.

It is safest to leave the tree standing in water while outside, and to keep the holder filled with water while the tree is inside. A dry tree is a more of a potential torch than a wet one.

Other precautions include setting up electric trains away from the tree; turning off all Christmas lights before going to bed by pulling the plug or flicking a switch located a safe distance from the tree; and turning lights off when away from home.

As for outdoor decorating, make sure cords and lights are weatherproof so snow can't short-circuit them. It's best to run outdoor wires overhead where people won't trip over them.

Inspect Tree

It's also a good idea to inspect the tree from time to time to see whether needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If they have, change the position of the lights. Take the tree down and discard it when needles start falling. Discard gift wrappings soon after gifts are opened.

If your tree catches fire in spite of the preceding instructions, here are some simple steps to follow, remembering that the most important thing

- is to get people out of the house as soon as possible:
- 1.) Decide now on how you would be able to save your family's and guests' lives if you were to awake and smell smoke tonight.
 - 2.) Plan Routes Figure out two possible routes to the ground from any upstairs bedroom. It is unlikely that both escape routes would be cut off by flames during the early stages of a fire.
 - 3.) If a fire starts, arouse everyone in the house. Make it your first duty to get everyone out of the house.

Chemicals in Our Food Supply

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, recently charged Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, with using cranberries and poultry to further his political ambitions.

He was referring to the recent orders issued by the Health and Welfare Department banning the use of certain hormones in the fattening of poultry and an earlier order requiring chemical tests on all cranberry shipments before they could be placed on the market. We have no doubt Mr. Shuman's statement sounded good to the farmers he was addressing because it is true they have suffered considerably from the Flemming orders and prospects are not too bright for the future. However, Mr. Shuman apparently was aware that a law recently passed by Congress required Sec. Flemming to take action of some sort in the cases referred to. Shuman declared the Farm Bureau would seek to change the Food and Drug Act in the next session of Congress "to clip Arthur's wings. We are going to try to get some changes that will put him out of the business of scaring people out of eating things."

There has been a general feeling that Sec. Flemming could have removed the contaminated cranberries from the market without disturbing the sale of the great quantities of uncontaminated cranberries which were available. It has been pointed out that the agricultural department has inspectors who constantly are eliminating diseased cattle from the markets and likewise are checking on wheat and other grains. In none of these cases is there any great furor comparable with that in the cranberry case.

But Mr. Shuman, as well as other persons concerned with the marketing of farm products, may be sure that the public is not going to be satisfied with anything less than the positive assurance that now has been given to the cranberry trade that the products are pure and wholesome.

Even while Mr. Shuman was talking in Chicago, Sec. Flemming was reporting in Washington that he would ask Congress to tighten the laws governing the use of chemicals for food processing. He pointed out that in one section of the present law it is difficult to impose a retroactive ban on the use of chemicals found to cause cancer in animals. Flemming said that a food producer must ask permission to use a certain substance such as has been found to be cancer producing. But a producer who previously has been granted permission to use this same chemical item cannot be ordered to desist. To stop further use of the chemical after permission has once been granted, it is necessary for the government to prove that the chemical is cancer producing. Thus there is a possibility of food going onto the market that has been prepared by the use of a certain chemical which is banned to the producers of other food items.

Thus both the farmers and the Food and Drug Administration are going to be asking for changes in the food laws. It is certain the public will be vitally interested in whatever is proposed.

Inviting Bad Checks

Business people know it is a delicate matter to refuse to cash a check for a customer. It invariably means the loss of the sale and of course business people are there to make sales. But what use is a sale for a bad check? Such sales usually mean the loss of the merchandise and some cash given in change.

Three young men, two of whom became acquainted in Montana state prison about 10 years ago, recently took advantage of the merchants in Milwaukee and vicinity to the tune of about $2,000. Apparently the only equipment they had was a checkbook and a pen but they made good use of them. On the checks they lettered the name of a fictitious contracting company to make the checks appear to be payroll checks. Those are the easiest for strangers to cash because a contractor easily may have men on his payroll not known to local businessmen. However, the work on these particular checks was so crude the Milwaukee police said they were astounded at the gullibility of some Milwaukee area businessmen.

In fact, the checks were so bad that the forgers decided to buy a check machine to make their output look more authentic. This was their downfall because the role of the poor but honest workman went over with the checks in taverns, restaurants and beer depots but people selling the check machines were suspicious of the shabbily dressed fellow who was ready to invest $117 in a check protector.

While the Milwaukee police have the bad check artists in custody and have recovered some of the money they are disgusted with the policies of their businessmen in accepting such obviously doctored checks. It appears now that in addition to the rebuke from the police the friendly merchants also will lose about half of the money they doled out.

Real Cloak and Dagger

There is all the mystery of a Class B thriller in the international incidents surrounding the rough treatment given to Mme. Antoni Czajer, wife of the second secretary of the Polish Embassy, in Washington.

Several weeks ago three men broke into Mme. Czajer's apartment when her husband and children were out for a ride in the country. They questioned her in English, which she doesn't understand, switched to German and then to Polish. Apparently all they received for answers were tears so they wrapped a scarf around her neck, pummeled her a bit, finally knocked her unconscious and, after rummaging through the apartment, left.

M. Czajer called the Polish Embassy when he discovered his wife and after two hours was persuaded to get in touch with the Washington police upon the insistence of our State Department officer in charge of Polish affairs. It was some time, however, before the Polish Ambassador in Washington gave his consent for Mme.

Czajer to be questioned by American police.

Only last week reporters found out that, in spite of earlier denials, Mme. Czajer did know one person she was asked about by the intruders. On her desk was a picture of Mme. Pawel Monat, wife of Col. Monat, a Communist intelligence worker. Col. Monat had been stationed in Washington but left in 1958 to become coordinator of the work of Polish military attaches. Last summer he took his family from Warsaw supposedly for a holiday in Yugoslavia. They disappeared in Vienna. In November our State Department confirmed a report that Col. Monat had applied to U. S. officials for political asylum.

Noises from Warsaw have taken the line that Washington police are remiss in not turning up the attackers, that secret documents were involved and that the incident is an example of "the excesses of American gangsters." But the Polish government may have some more defectors. M. Czajer and his family should be No. 1 applicants.

Sourdoughs are History

Parents of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts should be happy to note that over the decades there have been subtle but nevertheless apparent compromises with the ways of modern living.

The girls, several handbooks ago, came to the rather obvious conclusion that all girls were not by instinct tomboys or naturalists. Homemaking, child care and housekeeping badges were put on an equal footing with pioneering and outdoor cooking. The organization still frowns on jewelry worn with the uniform but a variety of bracelets, pins and rings have been added to the official list to go with civilian dress. Boys, notoriously more cautious about new ideas than girls, have gone about the changes a little more slowly. But the fire by friction requirement which tried the patience of platoons of parents was quietly dropped a few years ago, apparently on the realization that a youngster who carried a bow and string or flint and toasted gauze into the woods probably would have a package of matches in another pocket.

The new Boy Scout Handbook has another minor but even more significant change. Instead of the recipe for pancakes formerly provided there is this simple capitulation to modern mothers: "Make the pancake batter according to instructions on the box."

News Travels Fast By Jungle Means Of Communication

From The Wall Street Journal

In Darkest Africa an assorted group of animals were conversing leisurely at a water hole. Suddenly a very agitated monkey burst upon them. "Run!" he shouted. "Run for your lives! White hunters are approaching."

"Ah, you simians," a hippopotamus yawned. "Always first with the information. Now where, for example, did you get this piece of news?"

"Where!" chattered the monkey. "Why, it just came over the azevine."

New Gigas, Teras May Make Sense To Some People

From The Dallas Morning News

The national bureau of standards climbs back on the front page with the invention of 'tera' and 'giga' for the benefit of mathematicians, so they say. Tera means a trillion and giga means one billion.

(E. g.: The U. S. has a tera-dollar economy.)

Nano means one billionth and pico means one trillionth.

Giga may represent $1,000,000,000 but gig represents the $43.15 that an editorial writer pays the income tax people. That's what he gets gigged for, anyway.

Why U. S. Bans Cranberries But Doesn't Touch Cigarets

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Your editorial on "Cranberries and Cigaretts" of Saturday, Dec. 19 raises a question the answer to which should be made known to the general public.

The question, "Why is the government through its agencies so particular about minute traces of a pesticide residue in cranberries while it raises no hand about cigarettes known to contain possible lung cancer components?" Is this fair to the cranberry growers to let the cigarette manufacturers go free while embarrassing the cranberry growers at Thanksgiving though they both sell products purported to be harmful?

The answer to this apparent discrimination is clear if one examines the federal food, drug, and cosmetic law. In this law passed by congress no one may sell a food that contains even a trace of any substance known to cause cancer in test animals. Since aminotriazole has been shown to cause cancer in test animals it may not be present in food in any detectable amount. Whether the amount found in cranberries is so slight as to make it necessary to eat a hundred pounds or more to get the same dose as used to produce cancer in rats is beside the point. The law says it may not contain even the slightest trace.

Mr. Fleming, our federal enforcement officer, is to be commended for doing his duty in upholding the will of Congress in banning the sale of cranberries until all lots could be analyzed. In this manner lots of cranberries could be released for sale as rapidly as possible and the contaminated lots could be withdrawn from the market and destroyed.

It is unfortunate that the cranberry industry suffered losses but it is largely of their own making. It is not generally known that aminotriazole was released in 1957 by the Department of Agriculture as a safe pesticide if used according to certain specified conditions. Because some members of the cranberry industry violated these conditions, 3,000,000 pounds of contaminated fruit was voluntarily withdrawn from sale that year. This seemingly small violation did not seem to concern the press at that time. The same thing happened in 1958 and the growers were again warned and again little notice was taken of these events by the press. This year the department cracked down, a step they had every right to take, as soon as contaminated berries came on the market this fall. It just so happens that shortly after the berries are first harvested they have one of their major marketing opportunities at Thanksgiving. This unfortunate coincidence is what hurt the industry but to my mind they have only themselves to blame.

The federal, state, and private laboratories are analyzing cranberries as fast as it is humanly possible and more and more lots of uncontaminated berries are being released for sale so that it should be possible to have as much uncontaminated fruit for sale for the Christmas season as is demanded.

Congress so far has not felt inclined to ban cigarettes under a federal law because banning contaminated cigarettes would be tantamount to confiscation of the whole tobacco industry. At present it is a matter of individual choice whether one will smoke cigarettes or not. Apparently the vast majority of the public is not impressed

Railroad Wins Injunction Fight

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Post-Crescent for the week of Dec. 25, 1880.

The desperate fight between the City of Menasha and (nominally) the M. and N. Railway, but in reality the Wisconsin Central, was terminated for the present by Judge Pulling refusing to grant the injunction asked for by the city to restrain the company from building over to Neenah.

It seems that Menasha bonded herself for the Wisconsin Central Railway, conditional that a certain point in Menasha should be the terminal, and paid their money last summer on a compromise of the bonds. Well, about as soon as the transaction was closed, the railway folks concluded that they wanted to reach the manufacturing of Neenah, and proposed to extend tracks there and also make that route the main one west and not across the river any more on the Chicago and North Western pile bridge, whereupon the Menasha people ple tore up the track and piling as fast as the work was done, determined that Neenah should not have the benefit of their railway expenditure without somebody paying Menasha.

Now the application for injunction has been denied, it remains to be seen what next step will next be taken by Menasha. That the city has been shamefully abused by somebody in this matter can scarcely be questioned. They paid their money for the road and now it is extended through Neenah without a dollar's compensation to Menasha and we do not wonder that its citizens feel outraged.

Sees More Contests For Legislative Seats

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Both political parties have indicated they intend to put more energy into the campaign to win seats in the legislature next year.

While their reasons are a patently partisan — the Democrats want to complete their power by taking over the state senate and the Republicans want to start the climb back by recapturing the assembly — this is news of some significance to those with a serious concern about public affairs.

For the field of legislative elections has been the most ignored in the whole system of local politics. Perhaps by the evidence that has been and is being accumulated that indicates at the end of a ten year study that smokers succumb to lung cancer 6 to 1 over those who have never smoked. See "American Scientist," June 1958.

Interested in Absenteeism

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I read with interest the recent letter of Mr. Gordon Bubolz, to your People's Forum. I must say I was not a little disturbed by the attendance record of our supervisor, Mr. Evans.

When one offers himself as a candidate for public office, I think it implies an agreement on the part of the candidate to fully comply with the duties of the office. Mr. Evans has apparently done about a half of a job. I am grateful to Mr. Bubolz for pointing out the record of absenteeism of Mr. Evans. Now the voters of the 10th ward know what kind of representation we have had.

Mr. Evans has indicated that he will not seek re-election. In view of his record, I think he should go one step farther and resign — effective immediately.

there is no element of Wisconsin government and politics that is so susceptible of improvement with a moderate effort than the legislature.

The Wisconsin legislature no doubt compares favorably with the legislative branches of its sister states. It is reasonably representative, reasonably responsible. But the close observer some times finds himself wondering how some of these men ever won their credentials and what changes might be made if the electorate in the typical constituency paid as much attention to the business of choosing his representative as he offers in the matter of choosing a sheriff, or a town chairman.

THE CONTRAST

There are men in the legislature who are solid, conscientious, and productive members of the system. There are some who are undoubtedly making a considerable sacrifice to serve there. They compare favorably with the highest traditions and the best performance on any other level of responsible government in the state. Some of them compare favorably with other public men who hold offices far more powerful and emoluments considerably more generous.

For these men of both parties the people can be grateful.

But the close watcher regrettably wonders how some of the others ever managed to get sent to the capitol.

That one who will be seen on the capitol elevators, for example, contentedly perusing a child's comic magazine, or that one who is known to change his vote with so little provocation that he is a joke among his colleagues although he doesn't have the presence of mind to be aware of it, or those who regard a session as merely an opportunity to exploit their love of publicity and theatrics, or the considerable number who don't bother to read bills, and those who hurry down to the motor vehicle department to get the low motor vehicle registration numbers that proclaim their rank and power to the credulous world, and those who are so anxious to please that they would be called drabs if they were females.

CONTESTS NEEDED

The important thing about the plans for more energetic legislative recruiting and campaigning of the parties is that many of these lesser men would not be in Madison if they had opposition in the election years. A disturbing number of senators and assemblymen win their seats with no opposition, or with nominal opposition. Many of them win because there is little public recognition of their records, or of the enormous consequences for good or evil their powers involve.

Curiously some of these men couldn't win local offices in their own neighborhoods. They are winning because their districts are large, or their constituencies are indifferent.

There is an anecdote told around town that illustrates the point. An upper Wisconsin politician, running in a county-wide district, telephoned the county clerk on election night to get the returns.

"You're doing poorly," the election officer reported. "Even the neighborhoods where you are not known are going against you."

Search for 2 Men Ends

Michigan Pair
Reported Missing
On Lake Crossing

Post-Crescent News Service

Sturgeon Bay — The coast guard at Traverse City, Mich., gave up a search Sunday for two Michigan men who were reported missing on a trip across lake Michigan in a 65-foot boat.

The men are Sterling Nickerson, Jr., 37, of Kingsley, and Glenn Roop, 25, of Northport. They were last seen Tuesday leaving Sturgeon Bay on their way to South Fox island which is some 25 miles west of Charlevoix, Mich.

The boat, a steel-hulled tug, The Bridge Builder, had been at Sturgeon Bay for rudder repair and a routine dry-docking check at the Roen Steamship company.

All islands in the area were checked Saturday by the Coast Guard, with a helicopter making a final sweep over the Leelanau peninsula before the search was given up. The Bridge Builder was used during construction of the Mackinac bridge. It recently was used by Nickerson and son for hauling logs between South Fox Island and Northport.

Sixth Edition Of Scout Book Published

On the eve of its 50th anniversary, to be observed in 1960, the Boy Scouts of America is publishing the sixth edition of its Boy Scout handbook. An initial print order of 1,050,000 copies makes it one of the largest book orders in printing history.

Previously known as the Handbook for Boys, the new Boy Scout handbook has been reorganized, redesigned and rewritten. Readability has been tested to suit 11-year-old boys, and it is written in narrative style. It contains 64 color pages. The first copy has been bound for presentation to President Eisenhower at the White House Feb. 8, the date of the 50th birthday celebration of the Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Eisenhower is honorary president of the Boy Scouts and is a member of its national executive board.

Artist Norman Rockwell designed the cover for the new edition. William Hillcourt edited the book and design and art direction was done by Donald N. Ross.

Including the late edition, a total of 17,600,000 copies have been printed since 1910.

The book soon will be available at Boy Scout offices and stores distributing Scout equipment.

Probation Ended For Man Who Shot At Father's House

Louis Cooper, 27, rural Oneida, who Friday night fired two shotgun blasts at his father's home in anger over a lack of spending money, Monday in municipal court was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail for disorderly conduct and a 1- to 2-year term in the state prison for non-support of his three children.

Cooper's probation was revoked on the non-support charge after his probation agent testified that the man's three young children are kept by his mother and Cooper has worked two weeks since he was placed on probation in July. Cooper received $400 settlement in an accident case and gave $90 of it toward the children's support, the agent added.

Cooper said he couldn't find a job and explained that he was just "shooting around" with the shotgun Friday. The court was told that Cooper took the gun from the house and fired it after he became angry when his father refused to furnish him spending money.

County Bond Sales 63 Pct. of Goal

Outagamie county series E and H savings bond sales totaled $1,436,797, or 63.5 per cent of the yearly goal, for the 11-month period ended Nov. 30.

Sales in Calumet county totaled $268,184 or 64.5 per cent of the goal; Waupaca county, $462,685 or 74.2 per cent, and Winnebago county, $1,736,899 or 61.9 per cent.

State-wide sales for the same period were $83,789,194 or 72.5 per cent of the goal.

Family of 10 Homeless as Blaze Damages House, Child Saved

BY DAVID SCHAEFER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

At 5 p.m. Monday the outlook for a happy Christmas for the Milton Hatton family was bleak, indeed Hatton, his wife and eight children could not be sure where they would spend the night, much less the Christmas holiday.

"Maybe we'll be able to stay with friends," Hatton said. Only a short time before he had come home to find the charred, still-smoking interior of the small frame home he rented at 919 S. Outagamie street.

The results of the fire could have been worse. Two of the Hatton children — one coats. They were only upstairs 15 seconds at the most and they came down and said there was a fire."

"I went up and there were just little pieces of fire in the ceiling and the insulation along the wall. I put out most of it along the wall, but I couldn't put it out in the ceiling," she said.

Damage To Personal Goods

"I came downstairs and the living room was all full of smoke. Mr. Luchterhand was working on his car next door and I asked him if I could use the phone because there was a fire. He asked me if there was anyone in the house, and I said Susan, so we went back and got her out while Mrs. Luchterhand called the fire department."

The baby was sleeping in a downstairs bedroom adjacent to the living room. Most damage of the fire damage was in an attic bedroom above the living room. The insulated board wall and low, sloping ceiling were burned away. The double and single beds were charred and bedding burned.

Firemen said the fire apparently started in a storage area between the wall and the roof. Most of the family's clothing and furniture was destroyed by fire, smoke or water. A 2-foot hole in the living room ceiling below the origin of the fire was still leaking water when Hatton arrived home.

James Despina, Diving Expert, Special Teacher

(This is another in a series of stories on new Appleton teachers.)

James H. Despina, 110 Wilson avenue, Green Bay teaches special intermediate classes for the first time this year at Morgan school.

He attended Marquette university and graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1958. While in college, he swam on the varsity team. He also worked as a commercial diver in the summer and taught diving as a civilian and while he was in the army.

Despina previously taught fourth and eighth grade at Oak Creek, Wis. He is married.

Air Force Tells of Special Yule Service

Tachikawa Air Base, Japan

The U.S. air force today announced a special Christmas service for its charges who celebrate too much.

A headquarters announcement to all American personnel at this huge base invited them to telephone the air police for a chauffeur if "at any time during the Christmas holidays you might attend a party and feel you cannot drive your vehicle because you have been drinking."

The announcement added that managers of clubs on the base would call the police if they felt a celebrant had had too much.

Salvation Army Aiding Family

The Salvation Army, which arranged temporary quarters for the Milton Hatton family at an Appleton hotel overnight, is making an appeal for furniture and clothing for the burned-out family.

Capt. James Coleman said at least three beds are needed, bedding, clothing for all family members, and living room furniture. Materials donated will be picked up by the Salvation Army. The group also is seeking living quarters for the family.

a sleeping 2-year-old—were home when the fire broke out. Both parents were working.

Carried Child Out

A neighbor, Otto Luchterhand, 1001 S. Outagamie street, carried the sleeping child out of the building. Mary Lee Hatton, 14, the oldest child, momentarily forgot 2-year old Susan in the excitement when she left to call the fire department.

The Hatton children are Mary Lee, 14, John, 12, Alvin, 11, Wayne, 10, James, 8, Stephen, 7, Gary, 5 and Susan, 2.

Mary Lee said she was in the living room when the fire started. "It was almost 3:30, I think. The three youngest boys came home and went upstairs to put away their Fire of undetermined origin destroyed many of the furnishings and much of the interior of the small frame house at 919 S. Outagamie street. In the left foreground is Mary Lee Hatton, 14, who was home alone with her 2-year old sister when the fire broke out. No one was injured.

Wiley Wants Clear Line on Wiretapping

Wisconsin Senator Seeks Legal Control Of Eavesdropping

Washington — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) wants congress to draw a clear line between legal and illegal wiretapping and eavesdropping through electronic devices.

New electronic devices, Wiley said, permit complete monitoring and surveillance of communications and activities in private homes without the victims' knowledge. "With the increasing availability and use of such electronic devices—a vest pocket recorder can now be purchased for $300—it becomes imperative for congress to draw a clear line between legal and illegal uses of such equipment," Wiley said. "We recognize, of course, that the use of such practices by responsible law enforcement agencies, such as the FBI and the intelligence branches of the armed services, may be necessary in the detection of crime, espionage and sabotage."

Wiretapping Increase

Wiley said in recent years there has been a tremendous increase in wiretapping by private investigators. "A new threat to the privacy of Americans comes from private abuses rather than from government utilization of wiretapping and similar methods," he said.

Wiley said that while federal law prohibits the divulging of information obtained by private investigators, there is little effort to enforce it.

Wiley is a member of a senate judiciary subcommittee which is holding hearings on wiretapping and eavesdropping and the effect of such practices on the individual liberties of people.

Spellman Will Spend Christmas With Troops

Air Force Gives School Its Own Jet

Gaviota, Calif. — The kids at Vista Del Mar elementary school have received a dandy Christmas present from the United States Air Force—a jet airplane.

The F-86 Sabre jet, sans engine or guns, was delivered to this ranching community near the Pacific ocean last weekend by the First Missile Division at nearby Vandenberg Air Force base.

Six months ago, Principal Warren Binley casually asked Vandenberg officers if they happened to have a retired jet that could be set up on the school ground. They didn't, but they found one at an Arizona relocation center and had it flown to Vandenberg.

Binley was somewhat startled when he saw three helicopters fly over the mountains and land on the school yard with the disassembled jet parts. Air Force maintenance men then re-assembled the newly-painted 6,800 pound plane, leaving the cockpit and instrument panel intact.

As the helicopter flew away, Binley rang the school bell. The result: Christmas vacation began last Friday afternoon, but the school is enjoying its most popular week of the year.

Greater Burial Allowance Given

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Local relief directors have been advised by the state department of public welfare of new state legislation liberalizing the burial allowances for public assistance recipients.

The new statute permits payment of up to $200, besides phone, inside the booth with a hammer. Formerly the limit was $150 mer, screw driver, mallet, for burial expenses and ceme-can opener — and one very tery charges up to $35.

Americans Spend $96 Per Capita For Medical Care

New York — Americans spent an average of $96 per person for medical care last year, says the Health Insurance Institute.

More than 123 million Americans paid 1,200 insurance organizations $5,900,000,000 for protection against possible injury and illness, the institute said Sunday.

Total public expenditures for personal medical care in 1958 was more than $16½ billion.

American families budgeted 1.9 per cent of their income toward the purchase of health insurance in 1958, compared with 1.5 per cent in 1954 and 0.8 per cent in 1949, the report said.

More Than 10 Cents Worth of Trouble

Indianapolis — James H. Coleman, 30, was charged with burglary by police who didn't believe his story of losing a dime in a pay telephone.

Coleman was found the actual cemetery charges. Inside the booth with a hammer. Formerly the limit was $150 mer, screw driver, mallet, for burial expenses and ceme-can opener — and one very tery charges up to $35.

Christmas Often Time of False Hopes

Superficial Joy
Does Not Last,
Rev. Pierson Says

Although men look at the world with different eyes at Christmas, and see more good in people, find more beauty and become more hopeful, for many Christmas is a time of false hopes and disappointments, the Rev. C. J. Pierson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, said in his sermon Sunday.

"We look fondly at children . . . and we are more tolerant of our enemies. Mr. Khrushchev doesn't seem quite so wicked and we can't be so serious with the skeptics who see a cold wind blowing over the debris of a universe in ruins."

"Joy does find its way into our hearts . . . Christmas works its magic spell. The lights and the songs brighten the days and nights and bring peace and good will to men," the Rev. Mr. Pierson said.

Gaiety Without God

But the love and the joy and peace, warmth and expectancy does not last, he said. For too many people Christmas is not the Incarnation, it's superficial goodwill, parties and pleasures . . . and gaiety without God.

"For many of us it's pleasant and it's fun. But there is a tragic side. There is sadness and disappointment. "Unless children have been carefully schooled in the real meaning of Christmas they are likely to be unhappy," he said. Those with the image of Santa in their minds must be disappointed because he cannot possibly satisfy all of the longings that have so deliberately and commercially and diabolically been created, the pastor said.

Nationalism, Communism

"While the poets and philosophers and authors of the western world are telling men their destiny is the ash can . . . the political leaders of the rest of the world are setting men on fire with nationalistic and communistic hopes," the Rev. Mr. Pierson said.

While the western world is "waiting for night to fall," men and women in underdeveloped communist lands are willing to make costly sacrifices to assure fulfillment of their hopes, he said.

"The Christian world still bows regularly before God . . . the Father who is in heaven . . . and prays 'Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done, but the Christian world does not seem to expect that kingdom to come. Indeed, it sometimes wonders if there will be any earth at all.'"

In the past men went into all parts of the world telling men their suffering for righteousness sake would be rewarded. They told men to love their enemies and assured the meek they would inherit the earth.

"Now other men are going into all parts of the world telling men that a glorious future, envisioned by Karl Marx, is sure to come," the pastor said.

Although Marx has won more converts, in our lifetime, than Jesus Christ, the future belongs to God, not Marx. The Marx doctrine is based on man's ability to do what he never has been able to do . . . save himself, the pastor added.

Another false hope is the nationalism that has developed since World War II, he said. Communism and nationalism are false hopes because "they are promising men something they cannot deliver. They are making their appeal to man's pride and hatred and physical power. They are exalting the state or the mind or the strong

Apartment Fire Claims Life

Daughter Discovers
Fire Which Killed
Her Father

Green Bay — Roland Kramer, 52, became Green Bay's first fire victim in more than seven years when fire swept his apartment home at 607 S. Jefferson street, early Monday evening.

Jean

daughter, Jean, 15, as she returned home from a Christmas shopping trip. Firemen were summoned at 6:51 p.m. They found Kramer lying on a bed in the main bedroom, about 15 feet from the point of origin, and they are forgetting God and the soul and the moral order."

"Christ is our only hope. Only a religion that lifts men out of their sinfulness and unites them into a body . . . can offer hope."

The pastor said the west also has been fostering false hopes.

"Have we not been pursuing materialistic goals, and are we not building a culture whose hallmarks are gadgets and shallow pleasures, and do we not prize wealth above ideals, machines above spirit and leisure above learning?"

We should re-examine our own shortcomings, the pastor declared. "Renewal never comes until after repentance. There is hope for people who humbly examine themselves in the light of moral and spiritual truth and desire a world in which all nations may prosper in freedom, justice and peace, unmolested and unfearful."

"Was it not for this God sent His son into the world? Not to condemn the world, but that the world, through Him, might have life and hope forever?"

where they believe the fire started.

Fire department officials said the fire probably broke out after Kramer fell asleep and dropped a cigaret. Fire Chief Dave Zuidmolder estimated that the fire probably had an hour's start before it was discovered.

Kramer had been home all day, and probably was lying on a studio couch in the living room. He evidently awoke in a drowsy condition, and walked from there to the main bedroom where he was found by firemen.

He was taken to St. Vincent hospital by the department's rescue squad, but was dead on arrival.

The fire destroyed the second floor living room, and the intense heat baked the inside of the three other rooms in the apartment. A Christmas tree in a back room had turned black from the intense heat and was about to burst into flames when the blaze was knocked down by firemen.

179 Plants Hire 12,000 In Wisconsin

Expansion, New Firms Note Biggest Growth Since 1956

Madison—(AP)—A state report Monday showed Wisconsin's 1959 industrial expansion placed at 12,000 new jobs resulting from 179 manufacturing projects—may be the highest on record.

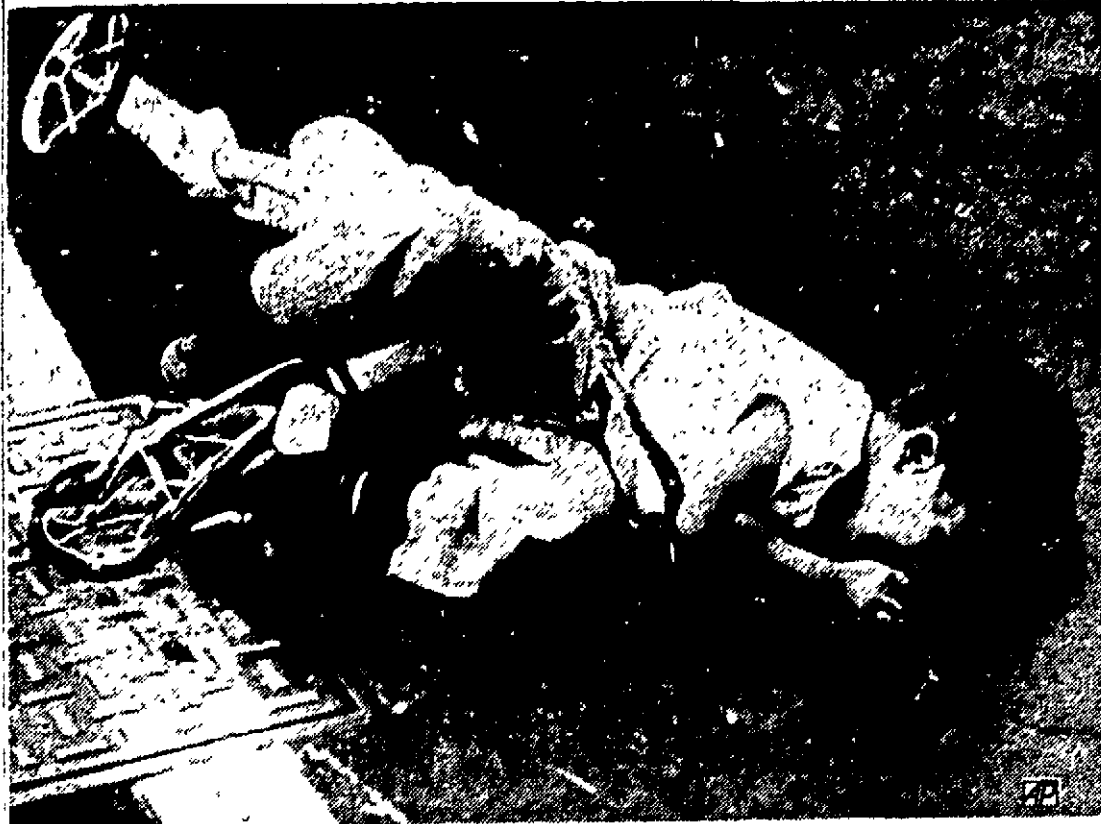

The economic growth report was submitted to Gov. Gaylord Nelson by David Carley, director of the Department of Resource Development.

The manufacturing projects included some $86 million in plants and expansions announced during the year. Carley said the previous high was 1956 when new plants and expansions were announced.

The governor said the report "indicated that 1959 would show the greatest industrial development in the years since World War II, and possibly in the history of the state."

Preliminary Report
Carley described the report as "preliminary" and said a final rundown on economic growth would be issued in February.

The report showed these 1959 projects: 31 new industries; 7 new branches by out-of-date firms; 10 new branches by Wisconsin firms; 9 out-of-state firms; 10 new branch Wisconsin; 20 in-state relocations by Wisconsin firms; 32 additional new plants in the same city by Wisconsin firms; and 70 expansions of existing plants.

This Dramatic Photo of Danny Kleppin, 6, sprawled across his crushed tricycle after a passing truck injured him in Milwaukee, has been voted the best Wisconsin wirephoto of 1959 from among more than 2,300 state pictures. The photo was taken last June by Foster C. Stanfield, Milwaukee Journal, and was chosen by the state's Associated Press newspapers and television stations.

Milwaukee — (AP)—A stark, split-second photograph of a little boy sprawled across his crushed tricycle, moments after a truck critically injured him and snuffed out the lives of two other children, has been selected as Wisconsin's best news picture of the year. The photo was made by Milwaukee Journal photographer Foster C. Stanfield on a Milwaukee city street last June. Stanfield, on another assignment, was only a few feet away when the truck's rear wheels rolled over 6-year-old Danny Kleppin, his little sister and their 14-year-old aunt.

Selection of the dramatic shot was made by picture editors of Associated Press member newspapers and television stations from among more than 2,300 state pictures moved on the Wisconsin wirephoto network during the year. They voted by an overwhelming margin—about 4 to 1 over the runner-up—for the Stanfield picture.

Some weeks after the original picture, Stanfield provided a happier follow-up: Danny taking his first walk after his fractured pelvis and other injuries were on the mend.

Hortonville Man Fined $75 for Bad Driving

Nye W. Schwebs, 57, Hortonville, Monday in municipal court was fined $75 and charged six points for reckless driving after Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmlege reduced the charge from drunken driving. Schwebs was arrested by the state patrol June 21 on Highway 45 at County Trunk T after they noticed his erratic driving. Schwebs testified that he had been without sleep for some time. He declined to take the drunkometer test until he contacted his attorney, then offered to take it, but the examining physician decided too much time had elapsed, it was testified.

Short in Wiring, Ashes in Cardboard Box Cause Blazes

The motor and wiring of an automobile owned by John Klepps, 1418 N. Drew street, were damaged by fire about 7 p. m. Sunday at 841 E. Hancock street. Firemen said a short in the wiring caused the blaze.

A bench was reported damaged at the Lawrence Braeger home, 342 W. Wisconsin avenue, about 8:10 p. m. Sunday. Firemen said ashes placed into a cardboard box on the porch was the cause. Paint which was sprayed on light bulbs as well as the Christmas tree was blamed by firemen as the cause of a strange odor at the Riley Solie home, 719 E. Brewster street, about 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

First Reformatory Holiday Showed Youthful Prisoner His Goal in Life

always feel you are wanted and recognized and loved. I can remember just about every Christmas I ever had, it seems like, and they were all wonderful.

But, like I said, the very best Christmas I ever had was my first one in the reformatory.

Worked That Day

It isn't because it was so pretty or anything like that. It's hard to make Christmas very good in a prison. But we had a tree in the dining room, and the hallway leading into the gym was decorated with evergreen boughs and there was a nativity scene. Inside, the prison radio piped nice music into the cell halls and we had a good Christmas dinner. In the evening we had a movie.

I worked all day. I didn't want to think much about Christmas. I didn't want to think about the agony I had caused my mother and father, nor about the punishment I had given them. I didn't want to be homesick but most of all, I didn't want to know that my mother and father were thinking of me and suffering.

But I think it was proper that the torture came to me, no matter how hard I tried to think of other things. Then I began to face up to it and what came to me was not so very much of Christmas but of what was ahead of me and how I was going to handle the rest of my life.

Day of Resolution

I used most of my day in resolving and it came to me that I knew I could be a good man and that I could use whatever skill and talent I have to the utmost, and to make up to my parents and friends for all the suffering I gave them.

On Christmas Day of 1958

I knew that I could do it.

My mother and dad wrote to me every other day. My friends back home have been wonderful to me. Even the people whose building I tried to burn down have helped me and given me encouragement.

Then yesterday at 11:00 o'clock I got news that makes this Christmas of 1959 the most joyous—but not the best. The news is that I am being paroled after 15 months. When the news came I was so happy I couldn't talk.

What I had set out to do in 1958, I did. Although there are many, many rules here that must be followed, I never once disobeyed. I have never been penalized, never had a restriction imposed upon me and I have a perfect record.

A Better Person

I'll be going back to my dad's farm on Feb. 15, and to my friends. I am a far better person than I was when I came here. A year from now I will be a better man than I am now. I can do it. I know that.

All I have ever had to do was to tell myself that it's my fault I was sent here, then to keep trying to improve.

So—because of the hard, hard thoughts that came to me on Christmas day of 1958, it was for the good of my character.

And even if you think it is a funny thing to say, I'm sure that my first Christmas in prison was the best Christmas I have ever had even though it might have been the worst.

Firemen chopped through outside shingles and boards to control the fire which screamed confined to an area near the bathroom. The house was a rebuilt garage set back from the street. The fire was believed to have started from a heater being used to keep water pipes from freezing.

Suspicion of TB Found in 432 State Residents

Some suspicion of tuberculosis was found in chest X-rays of 432 persons in Wisconsin during the first nine months of service of the Christmas Seal mobile chest X-ray unit, according to the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

Further X-rays and medical studies were advised for these persons to determine whether TB or some other condition was responsible for the chest findings, and whether the TB, if present, was in an active stage. On the basis of past experience, it may be assumed the great majority of the 432 persons will not require treatment. Dr. R. P. Jahn, medical consultant for the WATA, said.

A total of 23,530 persons were examined in the new unit from Feb. 2 through Oct. 31, 1959.

The traveling X-ray unit was built last winter and purchased with Christmas Seal funds.

ONE TO GROW ON

3% INTEREST PER YEAR

Just one candle (or an "extra" candle) on a birthday cake symbolizes the traditional good wishes for "another year" of health and growth. For those already in the grown-up class, the wished-for "growth" takes on a new significance. Mostly it signifies progress toward predetermined goals of attainment and happiness. In this sense, systematic savings here make every year a "year to grow on!"

Your Problems

Girl Shuns Dead Friend's Clothes, Irritates Mother

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: A few months ago we lost our only daughter in a car accident. She was a beautiful girl, 18 and in college. Lee's closest friend was her cousin Midge. They used to trade clothes back and forth regularly.

My husband and I felt Ann Landers Midge ought to have all Lee's lovely things as we couldn't bear to give them to strangers. A few weeks ago we packed everything and sent it to Midge's mother.

We learned yesterday all the clothes were given to a charity organization. The story was "they didn't fit." We know this is not possible since the girls traded clothes for years. I feel like telling the whole bunch off. My husband says I shouldn't mention it. Your advice will be appreciated.—Hurt

DEAR ANN: We've been married 23 years and our family is grown. Three years ago we bought a four-family flat as an investment and hired a maintenance man. After two months my husband let the man go and said he could do the job in a few hours a day.

There turned out to be more work than he thought so he quit his steady job to do part-time TV repair work. Every day he goes to the roller skating rink with the young folks, to a movie, or has a friendly game of Red-dog with the firemen. I'm left to tend the furnace, wash windows, carry out the trash and take care of the tenants' complaints.

Last year I thought he'd show his appreciation by giving me a nice Christmas gift. He said "Merry Christmas" and gave me a peck on the cheek. If he does it again this year what shall I do? I think he's playing me for a fool.—Tired

DEAR ANN: "Merry Christmas" indeed. Tell him "Happy Labor day" and to get back to work at his steady job and hire a maintenance man because you just quit.

Any woman who would pinch-hit as a janitor for a four-family flat while her husband goes roller-skating and to the movies must have oatmeal where her brains belong.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to say a word to Mrs. Experienced—the woman who is so miserable because she married "a homely little shrimp." And this goes for the thousands of women who secretly (and openly) feel they could have done better.

Could it be that she is on the homely side herself—maybe fat and sloppy? I'll bet if that little shrimp thought he could have done better, he would have.

These women who let you know they married "beneath themselves" usually have a vastly exaggerated opinion of what they have to offer. From what I've seen, they're lucky to have found a man who'd have them. No first rate woman chops her husband down behind his back.—Happy Married to a Homely but Marvellous Little Shrimp

DEAR HAPPILY MARRIED: To your words of wisdom I can add only "amen", and my thanks for having written.

Soraya Primps While Shah Weds

St. Moritz, Switzerland—Princess Soraya got a new hair-do today while her former husband, the Shah of Iran, was marrying his third bride.

Beautiful, green-eyed Soraya cancelled a ski lesson and spent 24 hours in the hair-dressing shop of the fashionable Palace hotel.

With her German-born mother, Mrs. Eva Esfandiary, she later lunched in the hotel grill room. Then they returned to their suite.

Paris hair stylist Didier Blais called the new hair-do the "Pharaoh." It is a high build-up at the back of the head with a small fringe over the eyes.

Soraya's Italian aristocrat boy friend, Prince Ramondo Orsini, has a suite booked in the Palace hotel and is expected to arrive from Rome Wednesday.

The Shah divorced Soraya in March, 1958, because she failed to produce an heir to the throne.

Modern Women Strive To Eliminate Leisure

BY NORMA GAUHN

New York—Through the centuries, man has slaved to develop labor-saving devices for his mate.

Fire, the wheel, the steam engine, electricity, chemistry—all have been subdued to make life easier for the little woman.

But the female mind keeps buzzing with new ways to avoid the leisure won by her spouse.

At least this is apparent in a theory developed by Rachele Wall, who took six months to work out her thoughts on leisure.

Mrs. Wall, publicist for the Edison Electric institute, says leisure is not spent wisely nor well by the great majority of Americans. This, she says, is because people haven't yet grasped that it is an entirely new freedom.

Ruling Freedom "I call it the freedom for man to rule himself," she says. "We are finding out that as we do less work for others, we can do more ourselves—if we only take advantage of the opportunity."

Americans are unique, Mrs. Wall says, because technological advances have freed them of the physical exertion attached to work while most of the world is still struggling to reach that point. But, she notes:

"This freedom becomes suspect, an alien creed, contrary to the religious belief that the labor of man is virtuous."

Mr. Wall is confident that man's inborn sense of responsibility will make him put free time to better use, once he realizes its boundless advantages for himself. She says, "Man can only waste so much time—then he rebels and wants to use it."

Women, Mrs. Wall says already are experimenting with widening fields in their modern freedom from household drudgery.

"Rather than falling into a stupor in front of their television sets," she cites these activities.

Various Activities

Perfecting household skills so that cooking, sewing and other duties become arts.

Pursuing careers without neglecting household responsibilities.

Returning to college for advanced degrees after children are grown.

Seeking public office in political, community and welfare fields.

It is the desire for personal fulfillment, Mrs. Wall says, which has led man to his greatest achievements in art, music, medicine and other cultural advances.

"The society which sets the highest standards of free time and its uses," she adds, "can emerge with greater power from the culture which sacrifices personal responsibility for the dubious glory of war or conquer and divide."

Couple Entertains 64 Family Members At Christmas Time

Many people entertain over the holiday, but Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilcox have the challenging task of acting as hosts to 64 members of their immediate family.

Mrs. Wilcox is accustomed to doing things in a big way and looks forward to having her 13 sons and daughters and their families visit her home in the town of Royalton each year at Christmas Eve and the following night.

The ambitious housewife at 63 claims that she and her husband are in their "golden years," and enjoy their busy life. Last Christmas Eve the entire family gathered at the Wilcox home to sing carols and the young children recited verses they learned in school. Highlight of the party was Santa Claus, who distributed gifts.

Organization is essential to the success of such a large gathering and Mrs. Wilcox has been busy baking about 25 loaves of bread and nearly 10 dozen donuts. She will also prepare two large roasters full of baked beans, gallons of coffee and ham.

The Wilcox sons and daughters bring additional food to their parents' home and everything is served informally. A 2-gallon coffee pot is kept filled and family members help themselves to dinner when they are hungry.

13 Gift Boxes

Each of the 13 Wilcox descendants receives a Christmas box of presents from their parents. The 13 boxes are gaily lined with paper and each contains frozen berries, canned jelly, homemade socks, mittens, aprons and fancy needlework, cookies and a few purchased items for the grandchildren.

The domestic grandmother believes in practical gifts for her 35 grandchildren and she sews, knits and embroiders for them.

The couple's sons and daughters are Everette, Weyauwega; Russell and Robert, Appleton; Calvin, New London; Glen, Neenah; Roger, Little Chute; Mrs. Lester Balthazor, Mrs. Harry Bork and Mrs. Herbert Bork, all of Neenah; Mrs. Glen Dumberton and Mrs. Alton Ponto, town of Royalton, and Mrs. Franklin Ferg and Mrs. Walter Batten, both of Manawa.

Besides the 35 grandchildren, there are three great-grandchildren.

Dry Rubber Backed Rugs In Clothes Dryer

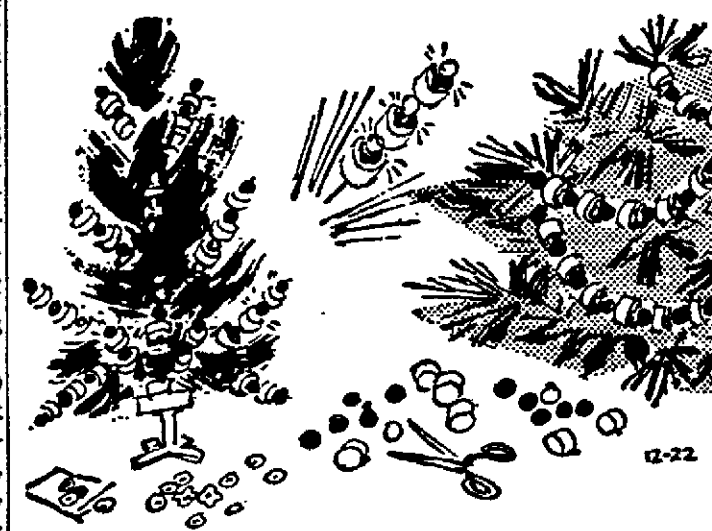

Rubber backed washable rugs, once a "hang-up to dry" proposition, can now be tumble-dried safely in automatic clothes dryers. Directions from the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' association suggest drying them only partially with heat. Complete the job by tumbling without heat on the "Air" or "Fluff" setting found on late model dryers.

Marriage license applications have been made at County Clerk Mollie E. Pfeiffer's office by Sheldon C. Wiesler, route 1, Appleton, and Gladys J. Kuehling, Hortonville; James F. Great Future Predicted For Next Capital Hostess

BY DOROTHY ROE

A new goal for ambitious career girls of the 1960s might be to quit the career cold and marry a rising young politician, Washington-bound.

There's a growing trend these days for women to revert to their ancient and traditional role of wife, mother and hostess, instead of beating their brains out in the competitive business world. This is seen in the spiraling number of youthful marriages, the return of big families and the importance placed by corporations on the social abilities of the wives of their executives.

The most powerful women throughout history have been the girls behind the thrones such as the Pompadours and the Du Barrys, and in modern times we have our own Duchess of Windsor and Princess Grace of Monaco, not forgetting such Washington hostesses as Perle Mesta, Mrs. Morris Cafritz, Mrs. Marjorie Post May and the late Evelyn Walsh McLean.

Shape History

Often the course of history is shaped at a Washington cocktail party or dinner, where an astute hostess brings together skittish ambassadors and heads of state, who stay from formal discussions across a conference table but are willing to discuss their differences over a dry martini.

A young congressman's wife, with the proper financial and social assets, could become the new "hostess with the mostest" of the new generation in Washington.

She could model her course on those of famous ladies who have gone before her — the fabulous Mrs. Mesta or Mrs. McLean, of Dolly Harrison, the mythical hostess in Allen Drury's best-selling novel of Washington intrigue, "Advise and Consent." She would have to cultivate a flair for the unusual and a talent for selecting the proper inflammatory guests. She would never, never run for office herself, but she would sit in on the shaping of world destiny.

Greater Scope

The scope of the next top hostess of Washington will be

Reader Asks Question on Handbag

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Whenever I go visiting, I have a habit of taking my bag with me into the living room and either hold it on my lap or put it on the floor beside my chair. I like to have it handy for my cigarettes and also for a handkerchief should I happen to need one. My husband thinks this is improper and that I should leave it with my hat and coat as it implies that I do not trust those in the house. I never thought of it this way before and wonder if he could be right.

Answer: It is not unusual nor does it imply distrust for women guests to take their handbags with them into the living room, and if they have been invited for a meal, they leave them there when they go into the dining room.

Ticklish Situation

Dear Mrs. Post: I am uncertain as to how to meet this situation: A relative of my son's fiancée is giving a shower for her and has asked me for a list of names of my friends so that she can send them invitations to this her apple. She can send invitations for tea to all the world capitals, and have her guests arrive by jet, with plenty of time to spare. She'll be at home in the courts of all nations, and possibly will entertain visitors from Mars.

She may give a party on a space ship, taking her guests for a weekend on the moon. She may cultivate the astronauts, as the ambassador of outer space.

No office job could offer the scope that will be available to the next famous international hostess. In the 1960s she will literally hitch her wagon to a star — and may be get there.

We've had our Martha Washingtons, our Dolly Madisons, our Perle Mestas — all potent and charming additions to the trend of their times. But look out for the hostess of the space age. Nobody knows who she will be, but she's undoubtedly on her way.

HIS AND HERS —

BY MURIEL STAFFORD, GRAPHOLOGIST

I do not understand how my boyfriend and I

Easy Going Couple

"... My boy friend and I are planning to be married soon. Would you say we should get along well?"

Here is a couple who understand each other perfectly. They write so much alike that you can hardly tell the writing apart.

There is one quality they share at this time that she, especially, should watch. Both writings are immature. Will one writer change and not the other? This sometimes happens. Many housewives, locked within the confines of shower. Most of my friends are only slightly acquainted with the bride-to-be and I couldn't dream of asking them to bring a gift to someone they hardly know. I think it would be a gross imposition. What can I say to her without causing ill feeling?

Answer: I quite understand and agree with your point of view and I hope no ill feeling will result from your explaining that none of your friends, who are much older, know your daughter-in-law to be well enough to be invited to a shower for her.

Both of these writers have unusually pleasant dispositions and are emotionally well-stabilized. Although he says in a postscript that he "can write several different ways" the qualities revealed are approximately the same.

A kind wife like this, who won't rush him or criticize him, should give him a happy home life, but to make a living for a family he may need a little more push!

Miss Stafford welcomes letters from her readers. They cannot be acknowledged but the most interesting ones will be used in her column.

Charlotte Ford Bows To Detroit Society

Detroit — Charlotte Ford, eldest daughter of Henry Ford II, made her debut Monday night at a dazzling party attended by high society and leaders of business and industry.

The 18-year-old great-granddaughter of the late Henry Ford was introduced to society at a night-long coming-out party at the Country club of Detroit.

The party was estimated to have cost the Fords $100,000. The club was decorated by Jacques Frank of Paris in a 18th century French motif.

French Decorations Imported French tapestries, insured for $150,000, lined the walls.

Flowers and fountains were everywhere. A formal French garden had been reproduced on the spot.

Charlotte, a willowy blonde, wore a strapless white satin gown designed by Yves St. Laurent, the Parisian successor to Dior. The ankle length gown was trimmed with bands of embroidered flowers, pearls and tourmalines.

Her mother, Mrs. Henry Ford, II, wore a pink satin ball gown. It was embroidered with crystals and created by Simonetta of Rome.

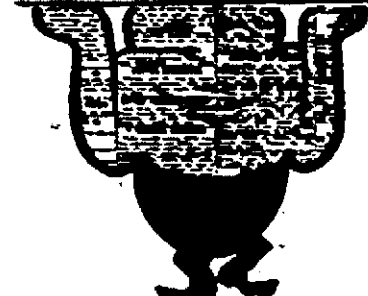

Charlotte was escorted by a cousin, Peter Sullivan of Glen Head, L.I. Her father, president of Ford Motor company, South hand and the dummy.

How would you play the spades if you held this combination 100 times—as you undoubtedly will in the course of the next year or so?

You surely begin by leading out the ace of spades. Then you lead a low spade toward dummy. There is no problem if West plays an honor on the second round or if an honor drops singleton.

The problem arises only if both opponents play low to the first trick and if West plays a low spade to the second round of the suit. Should you play the queen or ten the cards are.

If each opponent has three

If the spades split 4-2, how-

Many Handsome Articles Can be Made of Soft Copper

BY CAPPY DICK

From thin sheets of soft copper which can be bought at almost any hobby or art supply store, a boy or girl can make many handsome things.

The little basket in Figure 2 (suitable for holding a bouquet of small flowers such as violets or pansies) is an example.

To make the basket, place a saucer on a flat sheet of the copper and trace around it. Cut around the outline with an old pair of scissors—you can cut the copper almost as easily as paper. Place a small jelly glass cover at the center of the disc (Figure 1) and fold the metal up around the cover to form the fluted sides of the basket as in Figure 2.

The handle is made from a strip of copper an inch wide and six or eight inches long, rolled into a tube the size of

Sokolsky Studies Presidential Personalities, Their Backers

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — Nelson Rockefeller is putting up a stiff campaign for the Republican nomination. His trips about the country are a window dressing. The realistic activity is the search for delegates, the delegation as Thomas E. Dewey did before him. This is an enormous asset. President Eisenhower's glamorous success on his trip to Europe and Asia has strengthened the Republican party throughout the country. It is the party of experience, most Americans feel. On the other hand, the trade union bosses have shown no indication of moving from the Democrats to the Republicans. When Rockefeller ran for governor of the state of New York, he could count on some labor votes switching to him. He cannot count on that in a presidential election.

Bids for Democratic Power
It is beginning to look as though the Democratic party is developing a test of strength between Harry Truman who speaks for the organized party and the Eleanor Roosevelt-Herbert Lehman radicals who would re-institute the New Deal. It has been forgotten perhaps that when Truman became president he shifted the national convention. There can be a living in it. Vice President Richard Nixon remains the choice of the organized Republican party in most states. Even in New York state, professional Republicans believe that the party has a better chance with Nixon than with Rockefeller. On the other hand, Rockefeller will naturally control the delegation as Thomas E. Dewey did before him. This is an enormous asset. President Eisenhower's glamorous success on his trip to Europe and Asia has strengthened the Republican party throughout the country. It is the party of experience, most Americans feel. On the other hand, the trade union bosses have shown no indication of moving from the Democrats to the Republicans. When Rockefeller ran for governor of the state of New York, he could count on some labor votes switching to him. He cannot count on that in a presidential election.

Deal, from those who had surrounded Roosevelt to a group of his own friends and advisers. No matter what else may be said about Truman as president, he was nobody's man, not even the ghost of Roosevelt's. Since the election of Eisenhower, three personalities have made themselves effective in Democratic party affairs. They are Harry Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt and Adlai Stevenson. Truman's natural humor, his understanding of the machinery of political operation, his close relationship to the authentic leadership in congress give him extraordinary strength. Eleanor Roosevelt cannot be ignored. She is in control of the remnants of the most powerful political organization ever developed in this country, namely the Roosevelt New Deal. Most of what is left of this is in the A.D.A., popular among Democrats, particularly among the form-the Fair Action, and in the important National Democratic Advisory council. Enormous Voice These two organizations, which overlap in personalities and programs, hope to have an enormous voice at the Democratic convention. Presently, their candidate might be Hubert Humphrey or John Kennedy, although Rooseveltians. He attracts liberals to himself as honey attracts flies. Ask them why Adlai Stevenson is an anomaly they adore him and they usually cannot tell you. Perhaps as Presidents Harding and Coolidge fitted the era of a high order, neither age, or as someone called it, the era of magnificent intellectuality. Re-nonsense, so Adlai Stevenson exemplifies the era of the executive. Whatever it may be, Stevenson cannot be ignored prior to the 1960 Democratic convention. After that, who can forecast the fate of politicians, who, like actors, are often temporarily of some slight significance on the stage of life?

Survey Sewers for Town of Menasha

Want Solution to Valley Fair's Troubles to Fit Overall Plan

Sewage disposal troubles of Valley Fair Shopping Center have forced a survey of sewerage possibilities for all of the town of Menasha east of Little Lake Butte des Morts.

A preliminary report of findings is expected by Sanitary District No. 4, town of Menasha, from McMahon Engineering company, Menasha, during the week between Christmas and New Year's.

Amos D. Page, chairman of the town and the sanitary district, said the districts ordered the survey out of desire to have the Valley Fair solution fit an overall plan. Piece-work solution of town sewerage problems could waste money in duplication during years ahead, he said.

A. W. Scholl, of McMahon, said the preliminary report will include estimates of cost not only for an overall network of sewers, but for development of the overall plan in stages.

The report, said Scholl, will require the district and the town to make such basic decisions as whether annexation eventually will come to Appleton or Menasha, and where.

All sewer plans for the town, he indicated, must be drafted with annexation to existing systems in mind, if money of the future is to be saved.

Scholl otherwise declined to discuss the report. He said he is still working on it, but will have it ready in time for the holiday meeting.

Sanitary District No. 4 is a small area south of Appleton road (the extension south-

Parole for Car Theft Revoked, Youth Jailed

Kenneth Menting, 21, of 424 E. Kimberly avenue, Kimberly, was sentenced to the Outagamie county jail for a year after Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede revoked his probation on a charge of car theft. Menting was placed on probation Jan. 17, 1958.

Probation was revoked after a state probation agent told the court the youth had taken his father's car without consent and had taken two 17-year-old girls and a companion on a trip to Milwaukee. The two men also went into Illinois. Menting also quit his job, the court was told.

Judge Schmiede allowed Menting to work out of the jail on the day parole plan.

westward of Memorial drive). It is bounded on the east by the shopping center and on the west by a row of lots on the west side of Chain drive.

1957 Order
The district was ordered by the state board of health in October, 1957, to show satisfactory progress toward solution of Valley Fair's troubles by Dec. 31, 1959.

There was a change in town administration this year, and Page reported he was unaware of the state order until September.

There was some discussion of ignoring the order, Page said, but that would solve nothing.

O. J. Muegge, state sanitary engineer, and L. A. Montie, public health engineer, revealed District 4's plans last week in a letter to the Appleton board of health.

Threatened Legal Action
The district, they said, notified the state board that it had hired a consulting engineer and was requesting an extension of the time limit.

Extension of time was denied, they said, and the district was advised to file a copy of the McMahon contract with the state board, together with a resolution by the district directing McMahon to proceed with preparation of plans.

"The district also was advised," they said, "that it will be necessary for the committee on water pollution to commence legal action in the event that satisfactory progress toward provision of proper facilities is not made."

The report of the prospect of legal action after the deadline was made in answer to an Appleton health board inquiry.

Unhappy Residents
Appleton health board members have announced they will press for legal action.

Their interest is spurred by protests of city residents of the Cherry court and River drive area where unsatisfactorily treated sewage and other effluent floats through a ravine to the Fox river. Residents are particularly critical during the heat of summer.

Effluent from Valley Fair septic tanks enters the city by way of a culvert under Appleton road near the south city limits.

During a hearing at Outagamie county courthouse in 1957, then Mayor Robert L. Roemer told the state the city would not extend sewer service to the shopping center without annexation.

The shopping center problem, it was said at that time, could be solved if the city would permit hookup to city sewers for a flat annual fee, or by metering the flow into city sewers and charging so much per gallon.

Not Only Area
The annual fee arrangement is the same as exists between the city and Sanitary District No. 2, town of Menasha, the supper club area across Appleton road from the shopping center.

City officials have repeatedly said they entered the District 2 agreement only because they needed an easement to extend city services to areas east of the district and within the city, and it was the only condition under which an easement would be granted.

District 4 is not the only area of the town which reportedly is in sewage disposal troubles. The residential area between County Trunk P and the little lake, and north of St. Mary Catholic cemetery, also has been mentioned unofficially as having troubles with septic tanks.

Two Fined for Topsy Driving

Illinois Man to Face Theft Charge in Brown County

A Peoria, Ill., man charged in Brown county with driving a stolen car and theft of gasoline, was fined $100 this morning in municipal court by Judge Oscar J. Schmiede for drunken driving.

Fined was James M. O'Dell, 26. Also fined $100 on a drunken driving charge was Roger E. Gorton, 28, 1111 Main avenue, Kaukauna.

O'Dell was charged by state police after a patrolman followed his car from Highways 55 and 41 for several miles and observed him nearly strike oncoming traffic and drive on the shoulder.

He told police he took the car from a lot across the street from the Green Bay bus depot. He was unable to complete the drunkometer test.

The Brown county district attorney has issued a warrant charging O'Dell with car and gasoline theft. He was said to have obtained gasoline at a Green Bay service station and drove away without paying for it, according to Green Bay police.

Gorton was arrested about 11 p.m. Saturday by county police in Kimberly after a patrolman observed Gorton's damaged car in the village. Gorton refused the drunkometer test.

Both men will lose their drivers' licenses for one year.

Refusal to Add to Patrol Worries Nelson

Legislators Declined To Provide Police for New Interstate Roads

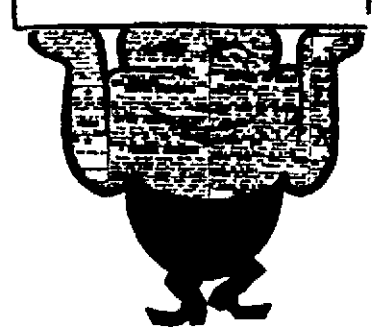

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Gov. Nelson is disturbed and puzzled about the legislature's flat refusal to enlarge the state traffic patrol to provide forces on the new segments of the Interstate highway system.

The governor commented here that the results of the legislature's failure to expand the manpower of the 250 man constabulary will be to divert men from the state trunk highway system for the imperative task of patrolling the new high speed Interstate highways.

The governor said he has

North Western Road Given Year to Pave Junction Parking Lot

The Chicago and North Western Railway company has been given one year by the state public service commission to pave and mark its parking lot at the Appleton Junction depot.

The railroad company told the PSC during a hearing Oct. 21 at Appleton city hall that it is willing to blacktop and mark parking lanes.

Revelation of that part of the state's order came when a complete text of the PSC's findings in the hearings on moving the train passenger depot back downtown were filed with the city.

had no assurance that the county patrols, and especially those of the lesser populated counties, will be able to provide the depth and constancy of patrol service needed on the super highways.

An apparent factor in the legislative resistance to an enlargement of the patrol—originally it was envisioned as a force of at least 500 officers and men—was the opposition of the local sheriffs and county police to a larger state force.

Nelson told reporters that he agrees there is need for a study of the manpower resources of local governments in relation to patrolling needs, but he said one of the difficulties in such a task is the fact that many of the local officers have other police duties and process serving functions that are not related to the subject of highway safety patrolling. The state patrol originally asked also for a start on an air patrol system, but the governor declined to recommend such an expenditure in the budget he submitted to the legislature.

Sentence Given Beater of Boy

Kobe, Japan—An American who calls himself an "independent missionary" was given a suspended 3-year sentence Monday for fatally beating an 8-year-old boy of Japanese-American parentage he was raising.

Herbert Belknap, 44, of Inglewood, Calif., was accused of the Japanese equivalent of manslaughter in the death of Hotoshi Uenishi Feb. 23, 1955. Defense Counsel Shinichi Hirabayashi said the boy was one of several children of mixed parentage Belknap had taken into his home at the request of their Japanese mothers, who were unable to support them.

He added Belknap was not affiliated with any church or organization but has a private income.

The boy died of a cerebral hemorrhage. The court found Belknap had disciplined him after he attempted to run away for the fifth time.

Timmy to come home so they can see him.

Timmy's ordeal started last May when he fell and struck the side of a chair. "He complained so much about that fall that I took him to the doctor," recalls Mrs. Probst. "He thought the boy's spleen had been ruptured, so they operated and found he was filled with cancer." At that time, Timmy's spleen and pancreas were removed.

"From then on, we thought he'd be all right. But in August, he began to limp, and they found a spot on his hip that they treated with X-ray," she continued.

Sudden Attack
"But all of a sudden, his little stomach became all swollen, and we knew he was filled with cancer."

Timmy doesn't like to eat because it causes him a great deal of pain, so sisters, nurses and parents alike give him whatever he craves — such as a candy bar, cookie or marshmallow.

The family has turned down additional blood transfusions (the lad already has had one) because they cause him so much discomfort. "Transfusions just prolong it. They won't cure him," said Mr. Probst. "Besides, he's just scared stiff of picks," explained Mrs. Probst. Timmy,

Lists Rules on Employing Minors

Employers who hire teenagers for Christmas work have been reminded by the department of labor that their employment may be subject to the child-labor provisions of labor legislation.

Confirmed Friday
Friday night, the boy was confirmed into the Roman Catholic faith. "He didn't make a move throughout the whole ceremony," Mrs. Probst said proudly.

Two other members of the immediate family also have come in for their share of misfortune. Donnie was born with a collapsed lung and had to have a hernia operation when he was two months old.

Mr. Probst suffers somewhat from arthritis, but it does not affect his performance as a die maker.

Despite his own troubles, Probst spends little time thinking about himself. "You read about these little boys like Timmy every year at Christmas time, but you never know what it's like until it hits at home," he said.

The Probst family is not afraid for the future, however. "We know he'll be an angel," Mrs. Probst said, "and that's all that counts."

Lawyers Note Drop in Income

Behind Neighbors As Economic Group, Terwilliger Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Lawyers as a group are trailing their neighbors in improving their economic status.

The complaint comes from Herbert Terwilliger of Wausau, president of the state bar of Wisconsin, in a bar bulletin discussing the background of the revision of minimum fee schedules for Wisconsin practitioners recently approved by its board of governors and now recommended for adoption by individual lawyers.

The bar president said that the practice of law is a profession, rather than a business or a money-making trade, but reminded that lawyers must earn enough to maintain their positions in society and to assure reasonable support of their family obligations.

He said unless the economic opportunities of lawyers are improved, the profession will also lose recruits to the sciences and other competing professions

Terwilliger offered some of the typical income scales for skilled tradesmen, among others, for comparison with statistical averages for lawyers.

He commented: "An increasingly smaller percentage of the national income is being spent yearly for legal services in spite of the fact that with the increased complexity of government regulations and taxation the scope of the legal field is continually increasing."

Ike Heading For Home After Good Will Tour of his 3-continent tour when he arrived at this white-walled north African city.

He was fascinated by dashing horsemen, 5,000 strong, who raised their ancient long guns in salute as he rode by in an open car with King Mohammed V past crowds roaring "Yaish Ike" (Long live Ike).

The president was presented with the traditional Arab greeting gift of dates and goat milk.

Tens of thousands packing United Nations square cheered as the president grinned and waved in appreciation of the silver tray of dates and the pitcher of milk.

Then the Eisenhower motorcade continued from the square down the avenue of the royal armed forces, packed 10 deep with screaming, cheering Moroccans.

Thirty motorcycle policemen escorted the American visitor into Casablanca, the last stop on his spectacular 11-nation tour on three continents.

Moroccan women in veils shrieked "yoo, yoo", the traditional Moroccan shout of excitement.

Arrives From Madrid
The president, arriving from a whirlwind visit to Madrid where his welcome was similarly enthusiastic, rode through the city in an open car beside King Mohammed V. Both were standing.

The president frequently extended his arms in greeting. When he did so, the crowd seemed almost to go wild with joy. It thundered approval when the president clasped his hands above his head in a gesture of friendship.

Morocco's king, who wants more American aid but wants the U.S. to give up its bases here, turned out to greet Eisenhower at the airport.

During toasts at the lavish luncheon spread in the palace, the president, as he has done in India, Iran and elsewhere emphasized that U. S. military strength was being maintained to help America's friends.

"We Americans speak of the rule of law among men and nations," the president said. "We are ready to join with all peoples in its attainment. But so long as forces of aggression are at large, we must remain strong—in arms, in industrial might, in our faith in ourselves, and in God."

Defend Freedom
"Our strength is for the defense of freedom—the freedom of ourselves and our friends, who, with us, believe that a man was created to be free, to be his own master."

"We are very happy to greet you," said the king in a brief welcoming address in Arabic before they drove off to Casablanca for talks.

The king's remarks were translated into English. Eisenhower replied in English, and his words were translated into Arabic.

The sun shone brilliantly and the temperature was a cool 53 degrees.

After a 51-hour visit with King Mohammed, Eisenhower was to take off for Washington. He is due at Andrews Air Force base outside Washington at 10:50 p. m.

"We Like Ike" signs bedecked the streets of Casablanca, which Eisenhower last visited in 1943 as a wartime general.

Tents of Moroccan tribesmen who came to hail the president dotted the plains southeast of the city. Mutton and semolina cooked over hundreds of campfires.

Tribal horsemen in brown burnouses galloped in bunches and fired their rifles skyward in the traditional salute to visiting dignitaries.

Eisenhower flew from Madrid after discussing the world situation with Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco at breakfast in Franco's Pardo palace. That was the windup of a visit that drew about a million Spaniards out in raw wind and cold rain yesterday to roar "Viva Ike."

stressed the need for continuing consultations before any final decisions are taken at the summit.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rшту Zorlu expressed doubts the Soviet Union has the peaceful intentions it professes. This, he said, made firm consultation all round more than necessary.

Lloyd said that even on disarmament he did not visualize any final agreements would be made without full approval of any nation concerned. Sources said the allies appeared reassured by these pledges and the meeting closed harmoniously.

U.S. Position

It was reported authoritatively that the United States considered the west's proposals for a series of summit conferences as mainly a psychological move in order not to raise false hopes.

The United States does not believe the proposal for a series of summit conferences in any way commits the west to more than the Paris meeting proposed for April, it was reported on high authority.

The test of whether any future summit meetings will be arranged will be the sincerity shown by Moscow at the first conference.

The NATO ministers were informed that the first summit meeting is likely to be a probing operation. If it is successful, further summits will be held in Moscow, London and Washington.

Must Be Strong

With these forthcoming negotiations in mind, the NATO ministers emphasized the need for continued strength and vigilance, insisting on western rights in Berlin, and pledging NATO to a "constructive" role in east-west negotiations.

The ministerial council ended its annual policy review meeting today after hearing a report from French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville on the weekend meeting of the western Big Four.

The 15-nation council in a communique said it fully supported the invitation the United States, Britain and France sent Khrushchev yesterday. West Germany also attended the weekend meeting but will not go to the east-west summit.

The ministers also endorsed the western proposal that the new 10-nation western-communist disarmament conference start work in Geneva March 15. The council offered the services of NATO's military experts in the disarmament study.

Pledge for Unity

The NATO ministers reaffirmed their year-old pledge to support the United States, Britain and France in maintaining the freedom of West Berlin. Technically Berlin is a problem of the western Big Three and Russia, but NATO in a communique Dec. 16, 1958, recognized that in fact the city was the problem of the whole western alliance.

Today's communique also expressed hope that by the annual meeting next year, progress would have been made toward "peace with justice," the phrase used by the big western powers in summing up their weekend talks.

In a news conference the council president, Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange predicted a period of extensive negotiations with the Soviet Union.

"Political cooperation, political unity and — I stress the word — effective political consultation are more important than ever," he declared.

"Our American and Canadian friends expressed their determination to continue their part in the defense of Europe. They also called for more cooperation from the European side and now it is up to the European nations to consider that appeal," Lange said, adding:

"To my mind the essence of the ministerial meeting is that all members have expressed their determination to maintain NATO's unity in the changing circumstances toward which we are heading."

Pravda, organ of the Soviet communist party, said the Paris conference "on the whole . . . marked a step forward on the path of easing international tension."

"The Soviet government's proposal on a meeting of the leaders of the four great powers has found a positive response," a Moscow radio commentator said last night. He added that a meeting of U.S., Soviet, British and French leaders "will help to remove mutual distrust and open the way for a further relaxation of international tensions."

lowed shortly afterward and were close together.

Berg said Jorgenson and Falkenberg were welding a storage tank on the second floor of the building when the first blast occurred. Falkenberg was inside the tank and Jorgenson was outside handling the torch.

Berg declined to say whether a spark from the welding torch was the definite cause of the explosion.

Firefighters were hampered in their efforts to subdue the flames because of thick smoke and were forced to don gas masks. Under normal conditions the plant would have been empty, Berg said, but added the men were working a 10-hour day this week to complete a rush project. He said that several other men in the building leaped through the flames on a stairway to avoid being trapped inside.

Court Upholds 2 Laws on Birth Control

Hartford, Conn. —The state supreme court of errors today upheld the constitutionality of two state laws dealing with birth control.

The laws prohibit the use of contraceptive devices and forbid physicians from advising their use under any circumstances.

The court, in a unanimous decision, said the laws "are a constitutional exercise of legislative power."

It said "the judiciary has a duty to test legislative action by constitutional principles, but it cannot, in that process, usurp the power of the legislature."

Connecticut's highest court was ruling on four suits brought against the laws, which often have been involved in court tests since they were passed in 1879.

Backers of the suits had indicated in advance of the ruling that they would appeal to the U.S. supreme court if necessary.

Principals in the suits were Dr. C. Lee Buxton, a physician and chairman of Yale Medical school's obstetrics department, three of his women patients and two husbands.

Buxton claimed the ban on giving birth control advice prevented him from prescribing contraceptives for three patients for whom pregnancy could mean a loss of life or abnormal children.

Some people are more critical of cars than others, and they are the ones we want specially to drive the solid new Plymouth.

This car is built a new solid way by Chrysler Corporation engineers. It is precisely put together and simply doesn't have many parts that work loose and need fixing in some cars. We'd like to answer some questions about this car now:

Q. What is this new way of building?

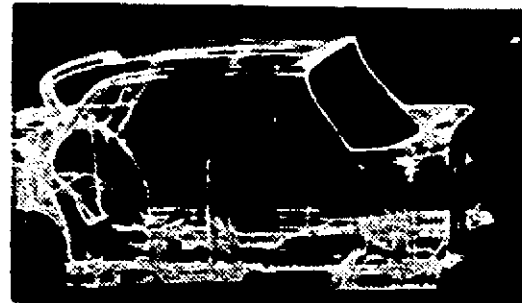

A. Chrysler Corporation's virtually trouble-free version of unit construction. Body and undersills are joined in a single unit of enormous strength, locked by close to 5400 welds. In Dura-Quiet Unibody, there is no frame and no conventional body bolts, struts, braces, etc., to loosen and rattle.

Q. What about power and performance?

A. There's the new 30-D Economy Six, a new "inclined" six that delivers outstanding economy in normal driving. The standard V-8 is the Fury V-800 which three times in a row topped its class in the Mobil-gas Economy Run. Or you may choose the extra-cost SoroRamic Commando V-8.

If you ask us, this is the best built, best performing low-price car of all. Give it a real try soon, won't you?

Body and frame are welded as one unit with Dura-Quiet Unibody construction.

Cahoons' Works Depict Quaint Scenes of East

Neenah — Fifteen oils by two Cape Cod painters will highlight the Christmas exhibition on view from Wednesday to Jan. 25 at John Nelson Bergstrom Art Center and Museum, 165 N. Park avenue, the Neenah Municipal Museum foundation announced today.

The canvases, by Ralph and Martha Cahoon, depict with primitive gaiety a series of quaint New England scenes and fantasies. Included are skating scenes, sailors departing themselves with mermaids, ships in harbor and a panel of shell-strewn sand dunes.

Both of these native Cape Codders are represented in collections from coast to coast but they never have been shown in this area.

In addition to the Cahoon paintings, an array of antique toys, a tree trimmed with heirloom ornaments and a group of winter landscapes have been assembled to add to the holiday spirit.

The exhibition and museum are open from 1 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and 2 to 6 p.m. Sundays. It will be closed Dec. 26 and Jan. 2.

Menasha Police Render Unusual Service to Boys

Menasha — "When you need help, call a policeman."

Menasha police this morning again proved out that old idea by rendering unusual service to Charles Krueger, 11, and his brother, Daniel, 9, both of 3 Center street.

The boys' problem was that their basketball, a 1958 Christmas present, had bounced away from them and onto the thin canal ice off Water street.

Two policemen, aided by a south wind, got the ball to the edge of the canal, where they placed it back into the owners' hands.

The project was troublesome. A rope 150 feet long slipped off the ball. Rocks thrown at it weren't pushing the ball anywhere. The solution was to throw a heavy roll of wire on the end of a rope to break the ice before the ball, which then was driven in by the wind.

Injured in Fall

Menasha — Mrs. Pearl Zoelk, route 2, Menasha, fell from a chair while trimming a Christmas tree at the Frank Smarzynski home, route 2, Menasha, Sunday. No bones were broken but she is receiving treatment for bruises and shock at Theda Clark Memorial hospital.

Big Demand for Electricity Knocks Out Power Circuit

Neenah — Too many residents in the southeast end of Neenah decided to turn on their Christmas decorations, range, and house lights at the same time and knocked out one of the circuits served by the Cecil street substation at 5:35 p.m. Monday.

A spokesman for the Wisconsin Michigan Power company said it was an unusual combination of circumstances with so great a demand for electricity at the same moment.

Electricity was cut off to 250 homes in the area east of the substation and had to be restored by sections so as to not put too great a load on the electrical system at the same instant.

One-third of the homes had their electricity restored by 6:25, one-third by 6:30 and the final third by 6:35 p.m.

The circuit had been checked a week ago and everything set for the maximum power amount. Adjustments have

Mailing Rush Over, Postmasters Say

Neenah Cancellations Down, Parcels Dispatched Higher

Neenah — The Christmas mailing rush is over, Postmasters George Rasmussen of Neenah and John Backes of Menasha agreed today.

Neenah machine cancellations for this year to the close of business Monday totaled 639,300, compared to 662,660 last year. Both periods began Dec. 1.

Menasha figures were not available today.

Rasmussen said today's postal business was slower than Monday's, indicating the rush is over. Letter and parcel delivery, he said, had been kept "up to date" through the season.

One factor in this year's lack of mail jam up is that people cooperated in mailing earlier and steadier, so no

Neenah Will Make Way for Parking Lot

City Seeks Bids For Removal of Present Buildings

Neenah — Preliminary steps toward making additional parking space available this spring are being taken by the city, according to R. V. Hauser, clerk.

The city has advertised for sealed bids on the removal of buildings at 133 E. Columbian avenue.

Bids on the work will be accepted until 4 p.m. Jan. 19 at the clerk's office. General instructions concerning the project are on file at the office.

Combine Property

After the buildings are removed from the 30-foot area it will be combined with the adjacent property which the city also owns to make a 90 by 120-foot parking area. The lot will be on the southwest corner of Walnut street and Columbian avenue.

When work on the area is completed the city will have two lots for parking. The present lot is on the north side of Columbian avenue at the Walnut street corner.

In speaking of the new lot, Mayor Chester Bell said it will be far enough from the business district so it will not have much appeal to shoppers. In this working people who have no place to leave vehicles during the day.

Move One Lot

"Neenah had to do a bit of shuffling to get parking space because of construction of a new police station. The station is being constructed where the old parking area was. This forced the city to move the lot to the northwest corner of Walnut street and Columbian avenue."

Although work on the new lot will not get underway until spring, bids for the removal of the present buildings are being accepted early to give the salvage firm an opportunity to get at the work as quickly as possible.

Hits Property Tax Inequity

J. A. Martineau Says State Should Broaden Base

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The inequities should be removed from the personal property tax program by taxation of intangibles as well as tangible property, says James A. Martineau, Oconto, member of the citizens commission working on a revision of the state-local fiscal system. Martineau made his remarks at a Monday meeting of the commission. They led to instructions to a subcommittee to reconsider the commission's previous attitude toward the personal property tax question. Members had agreed informally earlier that the personal property tax is hopelessly unfair and that the state should work for its total elimination. The state constitution should be changed to permit assessment at a different and lower rate than is applied to real property, the commission had also said.

Unfair Practice
Martineau indicated he will insist on broadening the enforcement of the present law. Under present practice, intangibles, such as stocks and bonds, generally escape the property tax assessor.

"It is unfair that a man who has a rowboat in plain sight should be taxed on it, while the man who has $1,000,000 in General Motors stocks should be able to avoid assessment," he said.

John C. Lobb, Milwaukee banker and tax source subcommittee chairman, said he is considering the methods of other states in applying the personal property tax on a broader base through better enforcement.

Hits Decision To Test Roads In 2 Counties

State Senator Raps Experiments With Bituminous Surfaces

Madison — Sen. Davis Donnelly, D-Eau Claire, Tuesday assailed the state highway commission's decision to use 12 miles of interstate road in Sauk and Columbia counties for experiments on the durability of bituminous surfacing.

Donnelly said "it is common knowledge that cement is the best highway material," and criticized the commission for experiments attempting to prove otherwise.

The Eau Claire senator said an investigation he made disclosed that G. H. Bakke, commission secretary, originated the idea for the 12-mile test stretch linking State Highway 33 and U. S. 12. Donnelly said the bituminous lobby has been "throwing a lot of parties lately and it seems to me these parties are starting to pay off."

"I think the taxpayers are getting a cheap gyping by Mr. Bakke," he added. Sen. Gerald Lorge, Republican from Bear Creek, said the road test strip also had been brought to his attention and he suggested the legislature's views be relayed to the commission.

Today's Children Getting Soft From Little Exercise

BY DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

AP News Features
Christmas is the time for presents. The best presents are not always the expensive ones, but the thoughtful ones.

Take a good look at your youngster. If you have one child or more anywhere between the ages of 6 and 14, I'll make a picture of his or her life. Not all youngsters will fit, of course, but see where yours does.

The child goes to school— that one is easy.

Very likely he rides the school bus, or else you drive him to school, or maybe he goes in a car pool. There will be some children who walk or ride their own bikes to school. These don't fit this part of my picture.

In school he sits almost all day. For the younger children there may be a shot recess time when he plays on the playground. He eats lunch at school, maybe has a little time for play after lunch, maybe not.

After school he rides the bus home, raids the refrigerator and settles down in front of the TV. Those who go outdoors and play vigorously are the ones who don't fit my picture.

Dinner time comes along and then there is homework to do until bedtime.

Wanted: Exercise

This is the life led by a huge number of children in this highly mechanized society of ours. The child spends a tremendous amount of his waking hours sitting and mighty little of it in vigorous activity. Gone are the days when children had to fill the wood-box before breakfast, lug out the ashes in the afternoon, walk long distances to school. And what's happening to

Santa's Helpers Pack Baskets in United Twin City Project

Neenah — One of Santa Claus' busiest branch offices is in the basement of the Neenah club this week, where a committee of 12 women is packing approximately 91 Christmas baskets.

Canned goods, beautifully wrapped toys, fresh fruit, candy, mittens, fresh chickens, eggs, jelly and butter have been contributed by service organizations of the Twin Cities to the Christmas giving committee of the Community Council, under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Falvey of Golden Agers are in each basket for every child in the family.

Each family receiving a basket is screened through Family Service, so there will be no duplication of baskets. Delivery is made by truck, and names are top secret, so nobody except the committee and the recipient is aware that the basket is a gift.

In some cases the recipient himself does not know he will receive a basket. "The father may be a hard worker but in a large family the money simply doesn't stretch to include a few Christmas luxuries. We hear of these people through their churches or their employers and send them a basket. Often they are so proud they could not accept it if it came from a specific group of donors, but our

Food Assortment
For a large family a box usually includes two or three large chickens, coffee, sugar, carrots, potatoes, canned vegetables, fresh fruit, jelly, cocoa and cake mixes.

Each box has gaily wrapped toys for the right ages with each child's name on the tag. Mittens knitted by the Golden Agers are in each basket for every child in the family.

Boy Scout troops have contributed Christmas trees to families who could not buy them. Girl Scout troops made ornaments and raised money from candy and bake sales to buy dolls and toys.

Menasha High school sent over 600 cans of food, with a card "From Welfare Minded Students." Admission charged to most of the pre-holiday dances held by schools and young people's groups of churches was a can of food. Various groups from industry bought and wrapped toys. Groups of old and young—Golden Agers and Future Teachers—cooperated on this civic project.

New Toys
There are no used toys in the baskets. Everything sent is new and given with a particular child in mind.

Older people and shut-ins who do not need a complete basket of food receive fresh fruit, candy, soap and tobacco.

The committee will be working through Wednesday afternoon. Deliveries are made Wednesday and Thursday. If a name is received too late for a basket, one of the group can telephone a grocer who has helped supply food for many years, and the box will be delivered in time for Christmas.

Mrs. Hugo Erdmann is chairman this year. Serving on her committee are the Mmes. Win Day, Ivaux Andersen, George Banta III, Reinold Ganzer, Ted Metzler.

The Christmas Giving Committee of the community council packed baskets at the Neenah club this week. Besides food, toys and mittens are included for each child in the family. Mrs. Charles Lamb shopped for gifts for foster children.

All of the workers are volunteers. One of the women who has been on the committee for nine years said, "It makes my own Christmas more meaningful to know that I have helped in a small way to bring Christmas to families less fortunate. I wouldn't give up the privilege of working here for anything."

Use Maps for Pictures in Child's Room

Oshkosh — Many inexpensive sources can provide interesting pictures for a child's room. Maps or scenes from other countries may stimulate an interest in geography.

Reproductions of pictures by famous artists are often offered in magazines at little cost. Pictures shouldn't be used just to cover a blank place on the wall. Use them in relation to furniture.

Don't forget that the picture "is the thing" and you should not place it where other patterns will detract from it.

Badger Foe Acknowledges Offer for Use of Huskies

Neenah — The offer of their Siberian huskies, Nikko and Tanya, by John and Paul Becker, route 1, Nyenah, for use by the University of Washington at the Rose Bowl game on New Year's day, has been acknowledged by the school through Don Nielsen, president of its associated student group.

The offer was made after a story came to light that the university didn't have a permanent mascot and was seeking one for the Rose Bowl game.

Nielsen, in his letter to the Beckers, said that over 100 dogs had been offered for use on New Year's day but they were seeking one on a permanent basis and he doubted if anyone would want to part with his pet.

Vacation's Here but Cage Squads Practice

Zephyrs, Rockets Play Games During Holiday Period

Neenah — It's holiday vacation time for the Twin City high schools but their various basketball teams are practicing just the same.

Coach Ole Jorgensen's Neenah Rockets are holding afternoon drills in preparation for their final non-conference game, a test Jan. 2 at Appleton. Practices are being held in the old gym because the floor in the new structure is being resealed.

Neenah, which currently has a 4-3 overall record with 1-3 in league play, resumes league action Jan. 8 here against Two Rivers.

Menasha, idle until Jan. 8 when it travels to Shawano, has four practices scheduled this week and an equal number next week. The Jays' present mark in conference play reads 3-1, good for a second place tie, and they are 4-3 overall for the season.

School isn't dismissed at St. Mary until today so the Zephyrs have been holding regular after-school practices. Like Neenah, the Menashans will see holiday action, competing in a 4-team tourney at Marinette next Tuesday and Wednesday. The Zephyrs get Marshfield Columbus in the first game.

The Zephyrs get back to their regular schedule Jan. 9 with a game at Beaver Dam against Wayland academy. They are unbeaten in eight games.

The Neenah and Menasha freshman and jayvee squads also are holding several workouts per week. The jayvees will play the same games as garet Mary and Mark Schumert hit 15 for the losers. Sacred Heart of Oshkosh dropped a 70-38 decision to Holy Name of Kimberly. St. Patrick of Menasha beat St. Mary but the Oshkosh team protested because there was only one official and no official scorekeeper.

The winners had a 24-9 bulge in the third frame and outscored their opponents 28-14 in the fourth.

Keith Boehmer scored 21 points on seven baskets and as many free throws and Bob Shukorsky had 18 points. Terry Hurley's 11 led St. Therese.

The victory was the 17th straight for the Menashans over a 2-season period.

De Gaulle Has Odd Concept Of Diplomacy

Resistance to Integrated Force Based on Algeria

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — This is a season of moodiness in international affairs rather than of acts that advance or retard the cause of world peace.

It seems incredible that the president of the United States should find it necessary to persuade the president of the French republic the defense of western Europe must be integrated.

Twice in the last half century, the United States has come to the rescue of France at a terrible sacrifice. Twice the American forces have had to cross the ocean long after the enemy had won victory after victory in sweeping across the plains of western Europe.

Today, when time would be of the essence in a military struggle it is unbelievable that the head of any western government would make even the slightest gesture that could weaken the military unity of the western powers in an emergency.

Problem of Algeria Gen. de Gaulle, as a military man, knows the importance of an integrated defense but somehow feels he can use nineteenth century methods in diplomacy to gain his end in an unrelated question — the future of Algeria.

The Algerian problem is of acute concern to the French government, but why does any French government believe bludgeoning in diplomacy gains anything?

French leaders have always thought that the "quid pro quo" method of negotiating was the way to deal with Britain and the United States. This is disconcerting because the United States has always felt each question should be considered on its merits. The American viewpoint is that western defense unity is more important than a thousand Algerian problems.

Decisions like this are delicate ones to make and undoubtedly, even if this had been handled satisfactorily, General de Gaulle would have seized on something else to give him an opportunity to emphasize anew his independence of all foreign powers.

Personal Prestige

French policy is concentrated for the moment on getting nuclear weapons of its own. Gen. de Gaulle talks about France becoming a first-class power in the nuclear field. He overlooks the fact that it would cost the French people a good deal of money and, at the moment, world opinion seems to be urging nuclear disarmament rather than the buildup of nuclear strength anywhere else.

President Eisenhower by his visit to Paris had an opportunity to smooth over Gen. de Gaulle's ruffled feelings. The French leader no doubt has derived additional prestige with his own people because of the decision to hold the big east-west summit conference in Paris. He likes to feel the world leaders come to him.

Moscow must be smiling. Inside France are plenty of communist members of parliament to say nothing of communist-minded individuals in the universities and the press who manage to wield considerable influence in shaping French policy. They are said to be very active in fostering a haughty and arrogant attitude toward the United States on the theory that this fits in with Gen. de Gaulle's passion for attention and personal prestige.

Fortunately, the type of friction reported recently in dispatches from France doesn't last too long and permanent prejudices do not have a chance to develop.

President Eisenhower is coming home with at least a semblance of unity in behalf of NATO though one does wish someone inside France could someday make Gen. de Gaulle aware that this is 1959 and not 1914 or 1939 and that missile warfare and nuclear weapons do not permit time for bickering about questions like "unified command." America, at first reluctant, did merge her forces under Marshal Foch in World War I and France was already conquered when Gen. Eisenhower arrived at the invitation of Great Britain, became the supreme allied commander in World War II. But in both instances the necessity for integrated command was never questioned.

TV Series Scheduled On Churchill Memoirs

ABC-TV Plans Half Hour Shows to Start Next Fall; Six Books to Furnish Backdrop

BY JINGO

Sir Winston Churchill's memoirs, covering world history from 1919 onward, will get the half hour weekly TV treatment on ABC-TV next fall.

The series will be based on six Churchill volumes, "The Gathering Storm," "Their Finest Hour," "The Grand Alliance," "The Hinge of Fate," "Closing the Ring" and "Triumph and Tragedy."

Historical film footage from every major country of the world will be gathered. Among the world leaders to be interviewed will be President Eisenhower, Harry Truman, the Duke of Windsor, Sir Anthony Eden, Viscount Montgomery, Bernard Baruch and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Each program will be devoted to an episode in history in which Churchill played a part and will feature his written words, his voice and Sir Winston himself.

"Emphasis," a new series starring Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, bows on NBC radio Jan. 4. Starting at 8:05 a. m. each weekday, the two newsmen and other NBC scribes will comment on events, trends and personalities at five minutes after each hour through 3:05 p. m.

That's 40 news spots a week! And, there's still another new public affairs show being readied. CBS-TV has booked "FYI" (For Your Information), into its 10 a. m. Sunday spot, starting Jan. 3.

It will cover such things as crime, preventive medicine, urban renewal, unwed mothers, employ theft and cultural activity in the nation's suburbs. Douglas Edwards and other CBS newsmen will handle series as host-narrators.

Policemen of The Fox Cities

(This is another in a series of stories on Fox Cities area policemen.)

Kenneth C. Foster, 27, of 153 Claire avenue, Neenah, joined the Neenah police force Feb. 7, 1957, and is a patrolman. He is married and has four sons and a daughter.

He was in the air force for four years from 1951 to 1955 and spent two years as a drill instructor, one year as a radar operator and one year in the ground observer corps.

Bowling, archery and cars are his hobbies. Foster formerly worked for Marathon corporation and Norm's Cakes Service.

Janet Blair has the title role and Cornel Wilde will appear opposite her in "Around the World with Nellie Bly," the NBC-TV Sunday special for Jan. 3. . . . The "Mr. Lucky" series has made such a hit in the ratings, it may be moved to alternate with "Peter Gunn," with both shows expanded to an hour.

Jingo Lingo: Barbara Britton has signed to hostess the "Big Party" on CBS-TV. Guests will include Patricia Munsel, Sammy Davis, Jr., Paul Whiteman, the Ames Brothers and Senor Wences. . . . Previously announced guests are Henry Fonda, Jackie Gleason, Rex Harrison, Julie Andrews, Shelley Berman and Mike Nichols and Elaine May.

Speaking of Jackie Gleason, he'll make a movie in Paris next summer. It's tentatively titled "Gigot." He'll play the title role.

Anna May Wong, making a film comeback after 17 years, appears little changed since the days she was caught up in the plans of Dr. Fu Manchu. She plays a character role as Lana Turner's housekeeper in "Portrait in Black," still portraying a woman of mystery.

Anna M. Wong Revives Career

Still Plays Woman Of Mystery, Now In Character Roles

BY BOB THOMAS

AP TV-Movie Writer

Hollywood — "When I die, my epitaph should be: 'A couple of thousand deaths. That was the story of my film career. Most of the time I played in mystery and intrigue stories. They didn't know what to do with me at the end, so they killed me off.'"

The voice was Anna May Wong's. A soft, musical voice with an unmistakably Chinese tone, though she was born and reared in Los Angeles.

The face was as before — the large, heavy-lidded eyes, the high, rounded cheeks, the dark bangs over her forehead. Now starting her first feature film in 17 years, her beauty seems little changed from the days when she was caught up in the insidious plans of Dr. Fu Manchu.

Characters Fun "My last picture was 'Lady From Chungking,' one of those terrible wartime pictures," she recalled. "After the war, I did nothing for about five years. It was one of those times people have in their lives when they must stop and find their direction. I managed an apartment house I owned in Santa Monica until it got too much for me.

"I had come to that transition when I had to change from leading roles to character parts. I think I have made it now. I have been doing television shows — even westerns like 'Wyatt Earp' — and I find character roles are more fun."

Now she's having a career revival. She has played in a couple of "Adventures in Paradise" TV segments and may become a steady visitor. Now she's staging a film return career in mystery and intrigue stories. They didn't know what to do with me at the end, so they killed me off."

Began as Child Miss Wong's career began in her childhood in downtown Chinatown. She and her brothers and sisters went to American school from 9 to 3 and to Chinese school from 4 to 7:30. But she played hooky from the latter to haunt the nickelodeons of Main street. She fell in love with the flickers.

She did extra work until her parents discovered her hooky playing. After she finished her schooling, she did film work full-time, scoring her first big success in "Thief of Bagdad" with Douglas Fairbanks. She has made over 80 films here and in Germany, France and England.

Her Hollywood career often I cast her with Warner Oland.

New State Law

Wedding License Price Goes Up, Rules Stricter as of Jan. 1

Oshkosh — Wedding licenses will go up in price Jan. 1 when the new state law takes effect, County Clerk Nell A. Hoffmann pointed out today.

Regular licenses will jump from $1.50 to $3.50 and special licenses from $2 to $5. Boys under 18 years of age must have the permission of the county judge while girls under 16 must have the permission of both parents. The applicants also must bring their birth certificate with them when they apply for their license.

If either has been married before, they must bring a copy of all judgments or a death certificate which affected their marital status.

Hits 'Support Dodgers' If one of them has minor children of a prior marriage who are not in his custody, and for which he has an obligation to support by court order, no license shall be issued without the approval of the judge of the court having divorce jurisdiction in the county of application.

One of the parties must be a resident in the county where application is made for at least 30 days prior to the marriage. The non-resident must make application in the county where the wedding is to be performed.

Other than clergymen, only judges of courts of record may perform marriages. This eliminates marriages by justices of the peace.

Lombardi is Voted NFL's Coach of '59

Vince Wins in Landslide, Getting 29 of 37 Votes Cast by Writers

BY JOE REICHLER
New York — Vince Lombardi, in his first year as head coach of the Green Bay Packers, today was voted "Coach of the Year" by National Football league writers in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 45-year-old tactician, who once served as "Red" Blaik's backfield coach at West Point, guided his team to a third-place tie in the Western conference with seven victories against five defeats.

Lombardi took over a team which had won only one game, teams. He installed five rookies, and picked up two veterans who returned from the service.

Paul Hornung found himself under Lombardi. After two seasons as quarterback and fullback, the former Notre Dame All-America was switched to left halfback and became the key to Green Bay's offense. He led the league in scoring with 94 points. Lombardi also established Jim Taylor, a second-year man from LSU, as his regular fullback. Taylor provided a steady presence in the backfield.

St. Louis May Make Bid for NFL Franchise

St. Louis — If the National Football league votes at its meeting in Miami Jan. 20 to expand, St. Louis will be ready to seek a franchise.

And the city's chances are good providing it can prove that a proposed 55,000-seat downtown stadium will become reality, backers said Monday night.

Private interests reportedly have raised $18 million of the $20 million needed to start an $80-million riverfront project that will have the stadium as its centerpiece.

Brewery owner Joseph Griesedieck said the football franchise application will be in his name as an individual, and in behalf of the city.

Worried About Weather

Huskies Might Drill Indoors if Necessary

Pasadena, Calif. — Both Rose Bowl teams planned workouts today and Washington coach Jim Owens said he'd call on the Long Beach harbor master, if necessary, to be sure he got a practice session.

The Huskies, who have taken up pre-game residence in Long Beach, had to drill on a damp turf Monday. Rain had fallen during the night.

Owens Concerned

Informed that more unsettled weather could mar the today session scheduled for today, Owens looked up the harbor master and made arrangements to use a vacant warehouse—just in case.

Owens is understandably concerned about conditioning. Rain was a problem in Seattle, too, and the team didn't get in as much work as the coach wanted before flying south.

The Wisconsin Badgers, quartered in Pasadena, aren't so worried. They got in some good lucks in Madison and plan only one-a-day drills today and Wednesday, anyway. The Badgers are using the East Los Angeles Junior college field for their warmups. This afternoon they were to tour Universal studios. A trip

FVL '5' Rallies To Edge Xavier

Erases 10-Point, Third-Quarter Deficit to Post 51-49 Win

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A new era began in Appleton athletics Monday night, and it was an auspicious inaugural.

Roaring back from a 10-point deficit early in the third quarter, the Fox Valley Lutheran High school basketball team nipped the Xavier Catholic High Hawks, 51-49, in the Xavier gym.

About 1,200 Watch

It was the first intra-city prep athletic contest in Appleton history, and the barn-burner provided plenty of thrills.

About 1,200 fans saw the freshman - sophomore Hawks give Fox Lutheran a 4-year school—all the competition it wanted all the way. In the end, the superior size and experience of the Foxes paid off. The clubs renew acquaintances Feb. 22 in the Fox Lutheran gym.

The loss was Xavier's second in a row after opening with a 5-game winning streak—all against 4-year varieties. FVL was copying its third in 10 starts, second in a row, but the hard-luck Foxes are a much better team than that record indicates.

Fox Lutheran tried to press and run with the Hawks in the first quarter and that was just what the doctor ordered for the speedy hosts, whose fast-break patterns will match any one's.

Xavier raced out to an 8-2 lead, built it to 15-4 and was ahead, 23-11, at the end of the first period.

Shoot 588

Lou Chait and "Chuck" Lueck each wired three baskets in six shots during that stretch as the hosts shot goals at a sizzling 588 rate.

For the rest of the game, unable to run as they'd like, Xavier's accuracy mark was just 22 per cent on only 9-for-41. Coach Gene Clark's losers finished with 19 for 58 for 328 shooting.

The visitors recorded a much better 43 per cent on 22 "hits" in 51 shots. They found the range for a .609 mark in the second half (14 for 23).

Xavier trailed the entire last quarter until Paul Zeegers scored a fast-break goal after a theft of the ball for a 49-48 lead with about 30 seconds left.

Drives Route

Rog Bartmann drove all the way in for a 2-pointer and it was 50-49 Fox Lutheran with :20 remaining. Ron Schmidt fouled Zeegers with :08 on the clock but Paul missed the first of a 1-and-1 classic, 7-0.

Warriors Bid For Fifth Win

Meet Indians Tonight in Milwaukee Arena

Milwaukee — Marquette university will seek its fifth basketball victory tonight when the Warriors meet Stanford's Indians in the arena.

Coach Eddie Hickey won't predict a victory but admits the team is entering the game with a fair degree of confidence. The Warriors have two losses.

Jim Kollar has been averaging 10.1 points a game and rookie Joe Scanlon so far has lived up to Hickey's expectations at a 9.5 point-per-game average.

3-Game Swing

Stanford, which lost to Wisconsin, 61-60, Monday night, is on a 3-game swing through the Middle West.

Hickey said center Jim Kersten has been proving himself as a man the opposition must pay attention to. He came through with 25 points against Illinois and 20 against Wisconsin.

The Warriors are expected to keep their fast break going and make another successful attempt at controlling the boards. Game time is 8 p.m.

'Hawk' Taylor Is First Brave to Sign '60 Pact

Milwaukee — Bob "Hawk" Taylor, a $100,000 bonus catcher - outfielder, two years ago, Monday became the first Milwaukee Brave to sign his 1960 contract.

Taylor, who hurt his elbow during the Braves' winter training schedule, was in Milwaukee to have a cast removed by Dr. Bruce Brewer, who pronounced the arm fit.

Full-Court Press Sparks Badgers to Win Over Stanford

Ulwelling Hits 6 of 7 Shots In Thrilling 61-60 Victory

Madison — A quick and accurate Wisconsin five put together a full-court press and successful stall Monday night, good for a 61-60 intersectional basketball triumph over Stanford.

Coach John Erickson's Badgers almost lost the game in the final 18 seconds when a pass went astray. But the defense held on and forced the visiting Indian shooters outside.

The last of three desperate floor shots by Stanford missed its mark as the game-ending gun echoed on the court. Stanford is now 2-2, Wisconsin is 2-5.

Scores 25 Points

Stanford's John Arrillaga hit 12 field goals and a free throw for a 25-point total to become the high scorer for a losing cause. Robert Barneson led Wisconsin with six field goals and two free throws for 14 points. Marty Garrity added 13.

Appleton's Jack Ulwelling sank six of the only seven shots he took to finish third high in the Badgers' balanced scoring parade.

Erickson's team left the floor at intermission with a 36-31 halftime lead that resulted from control of both boards.

Extend Lead

The second half opened with Wisconsin pressing Stanford into a number of passing errors that extended the Badger lead to 48-32. Two minutes were left on the clock with the score at 61-60 for Wisconsin as the Badgers came up with a successful stall.

Garrity was the man who put Wisconsin in the lead at 61-60 with a jump shot. Stanford lost the ball, and the stall was put into effect.

Wisconsin kept control until 18 seconds remained. The n Garrity spotted Bob Powers down in the corner as a free man. Garrity threw the ball but it sailed over Powers' head into the crowd and went over to Stanford.

Stanford, however, could do no more than hit the rim and it was all over.

The Badgers came up with a .489 shooting percentage on 49 shots. They also had the rebounds, 46 to 28. The Indians shot .363.

Has Spent 12 Years In Baseball

Earl Weaver, who has directed three successive clubs to first division finishes, will manage the Fox Cities Foxes in 1960.

The appointment of Weaver, who at 29 has had 12 years of experience in the St. Louis Cardinal and Baltimore farm systems, was revealed today in a joint announcement from the Fox Cities baseball club and Baltimore — the Foxes' new major league affiliate.

Weaver will be the third manager in the 3-year history of the Foxes. Pete Suder led the team in 1958 and Jack McKeon in 1959—both while the club was a member of the Washington system.

Second at Aberdeen

If Weaver's fourth club can continue the progressive rise of his other entries, it would mean a pennant for the Foxes. In 1957—his first full year

Aberdeen put together a season-opening string of 12 straight wins. Injuries hampered the club for a time in mid-season, and Winnipeg passed Aberdeen and eventually won the pennant.

Could be Here

Two of the players who contributed most to the Aberdeen success during Weaver's season in charge could play for him in 1960 at Goodland field. They are Charlie Hinton, who won the league batting title (.358); and Dave Nicholson, the recipient of a $100,000-plus

Ohio State, Spartan Quintets Suffer First Losses of Season

Illinois Nips Oklahoma, Now Is Big Ten's Lone Unbeaten Five

By The Associated Press
Illinois remains the Big Ten's only undefeated basketball team following Monday night's hazardous run-in with opposition from the West.

High-flying Ohio State and defending champion Michigan State were dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten while Minnesota, Michigan and Northwestern were sidetracked in intercollegiate play.

Illinois had to go into overtime to defeat Oklahoma, 60-57, and Wisconsin nipped Stanford, 61-60, to record the only two victories for Big Ten teams in seven games. Both triumphs came on home courts.

Yields To Utah
Ohio State suffered its first loss in seven games by yielding to Utah, 97-84; Michigan State was bumped by Brigham Young, 79-75; and Northwestern was defeated by Washington, 79-60.

Although these three losses were suffered on the road, the home floor advantage didn't do Minnesota and Michigan any good. UCLA tripped Minnesota, 73-72, and Denver rode over Michigan, 71-65.

It all added up to the worst night Big Ten teams have had this season following their 7-1 record in intercollegiate play Saturday.

Appleton St. Mary '5' Plays Host Tonight To Menasha St. Mary

The Appleton St. Mary grade school basketball team defeated Holy Cross of Kaukauna, 35-20, here Sunday night. The St. Mary "B" team lost, 22-11.

The Colts' next games are against St. Mary, Menasha, here tonight with the "B" game at 6:30.

AP Poll Ranks Cincinnati '5' Tops in Nation

By The Associated Press
Unbeaten Cincinnati, called by some coaches as the "finest college team ever assembled," is the No. 1 cage team in the nation.

Sports writers and broadcasters participating in the Associated Press' first weekly poll of the season, gave the Bearcats a wide margin over the rest of the field Monday, giving them 55 of the 120 first place votes. In the point score, the Bearcats received 956 points to 820 for runner-up West Virginia, which drew 50 first place votes.

Following the two pacesetters were Ohio State, California, Bradley, Utah, St. Louis, Georgia Tech, Indiana and Illinois, in order. Six of the top 10 are undefeated. Ohio State and Georgia Tech tasted defeat for the first time Monday night. The Buckeyes bowed to Utah 97-92, and the "Engineers" were beaten by SMU.

PGA Adds 13 New Tourneys

Dunedin, Fla. — The Professional Golfers association today announced the addition of 13 tournaments to the 1960 PGA tour and estimated the total prize money next year will top $1,500,000.

Harold Sargent, president of the PGA, said more than $500,000 will be at stake during the winter tour and the spring and summer prizes should top the $750,000 mark.

The total for 1960 is likely to be well over $1,500,000 when J. Edwin Carter, PGA tournament director, completes the year's schedule, Sargent said.

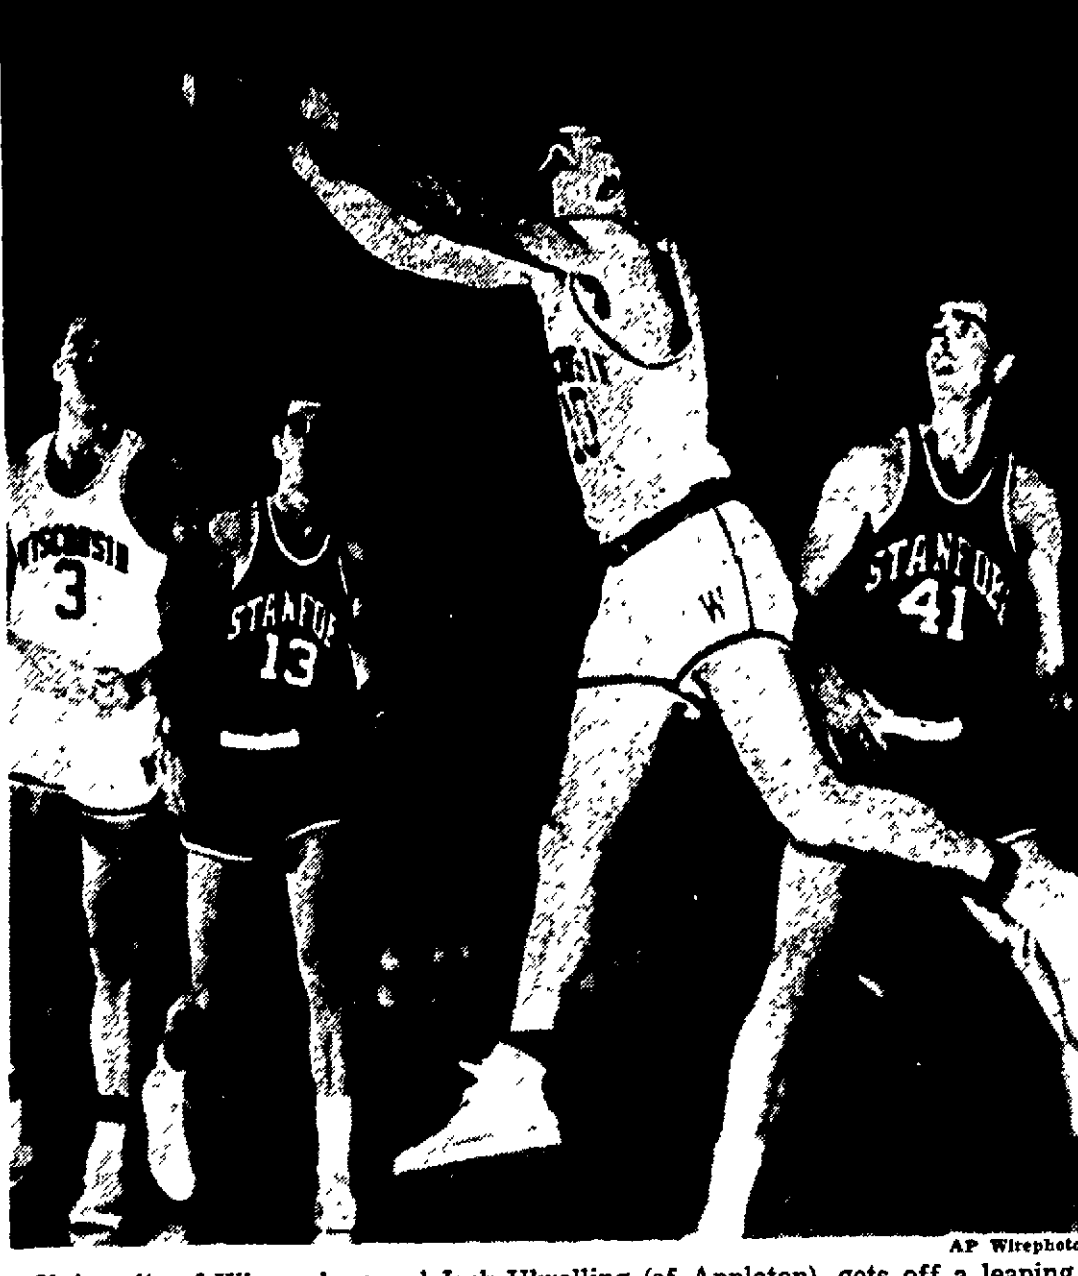

Time Short to Join New Loop, Rickey Tells Dallas, Fort Worth

Dallas — Branch Rickey, the patriarch of baseball, said he would wait for them to raise the money that would make Dallas-Fort Worth the seventh club of the Continental league.

But the time is short, he warned. The Continental must have its eight clubs by Jan. 10. Dallas-Fort Worth, Montreal and Buffalo are the cities from which the seventh and eighth clubs will come.

Harassing
Rickey, 56 years in the big leagues, said the American and National Leagues would never expand. "It never was intended," he declared, in pointing out harassing actions of the majors which he said were designed to prevent the Continental getting off the ground.

But, he added, the big leagues had finally been forced to announce they would not expand. And that paved the way for the Continental to make its move. He also said that he now believed the American and National leagues would offer no opposition to the creation of a third major league. He set 1961 as the date the Continental would begin operations.

Colts Resume Practice For Sunday's Title Tilt

Redskin Scout Says Dry Field, Home Crowd Give Baltimore Slight Edge

Baltimore — The Baltimore Colts returned to the practice field after a 2-day rest today to prepare for their National Football league championship game here Sunday with the New York Giants.

Most of Baltimore seems more concerned with the rematch of last year's sudden-death Colt victory than with Christmas.

More Predictions
Lighted windows that used to spell out "Foel" in downtown buildings now say "Colts."

Everyone is giving opinions of making predictions. Joe Tereshinski, who scouted both teams for the Washington Redskins, got in the act Monday by rating the Colts a slight favorite.

Braves Pick Marshall As Scout Supervisor

Milwaukee — Bill Marshall was appointed Monday as scout supervisor in the northwest part of the country by the Milwaukee Braves.

Marv Owen, a former Detroit star, was named to scout the same area under Marshall. He was a Detroit scout prior to joining the Milwaukee organization.

200,000 Mums to be Used in Wisconsin's Pasadena Float

Texas' Swift Backs Could Hurt Syracuse

Houston Coach Feels Speed Is Threat: Orange Stress Passes

Houston, Texas — Texas' swift backs could give national champion Syracuse trouble in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, says Hal Lahar, who came from Colgate in 1956 to coach the University of Houston.

However, Lahar, host to Syracuse at its training site here, shied from any prediction of the outcome.

Lahar saw little difference in Eastern and Southwest styles of play, particularly since the Southwest largely abandoned wide open tactics about five years ago in favor of possession football.

Rangy
"We seem to get a different type boy down here," Lahar said. "They come rangy, big-boned, lean, not so heavily muscled as in the East."

Speed is a favorite topic in this football-hungry land. Track is popular, topped only by football.

Boys run all year in this snow-free climate, so it is no surprise when the Southwest conference schools and Houston continually come up with fast backs.

Horvath's Huge Lead Melts in NHL Point Race

Montreal — Bronco Horvath's once-mighty lead in the National Hockey league scoring race all but disappeared last week as the big guns of other teams lined up behind him at 1-point intervals.

Official scoring statistics released today showed the Boston Bruins' center still on top with 21 goals — tops in that department — and 18 assists for 39 points.

One point behind was the Chicago Black Hawks' Bobby Hull, who collected four goals and two assists in his team's three games last week to raise his total to 38.

Andy Bathgate, of New York, dropped to third with 37 points on 13 goals and a league-leading total of 24 assists.

The Montreal Canadiens' Jean Beliveau held on to fourth place with 36.

He was freed of the escape charge.

But then he was convicted of stealing a car in the process of escaping the prison.

Included were four players drafted at the Nov. 30 meeting of the National Football league.

Dentist Denies Trying To Bribe Pittsburgh Basketball Players

Preliminary Hearing Of Former Teacher Set For Today

Pittsburgh —(A)—A preliminary hearing was set for this afternoon for Dr. Edward H. Sebastian, Pittsburgh dentist charged with attempting to bribe two University of Pittsburgh basketball players.

Dr. Sebastian, former dental instructor at Pitt, was arrested Monday following an investigation of statements by John Fridley, 20-year-old defensive star of the Pitt Panthers, and teammate Dick Falenski, 21, the team's leading scorer.

Fridley and Falenski, both juniors, told university officials Dr. Sebastian offered them scholarships to Pitt's dental school, and to pay them 50 per cent of bet winnings if they would keep Pitt's victory margins within bet-winning range.

Dr. Sebastian denied the charges, saying, "everything we discussed, he (Fridley) started."

Began Dec. 11

The investigation began Dec. 11 when Fridley and Falenski, on the advice of their parents, reported to University Athletic Director Frank Carver that they were offered a bribe.

Fridley told detectives he met with Dr. Sebastian separately Dec. 3 and Dec. 9. He said Falenski was with him in a meeting Dec. 10, and that it was then Dr. Sebastian gave him the pitch.

He "offered us the world—anything that came to his mind he said he'd get us—cars at cost and everything," Fridley said.

Falenski, who has been averaging 17 points a game, said:

"Our grades aren't up to snuff, but he said he'd fix everything—get us senatorial scholarships and guarantee we got into dental school."

Both players said they refused to have anything to do with the offer.

Earl Weaver Will Manage 1960 Foxes bonus, who hit 35 homers and drove in 114 runs last season. Weaver's managerial record is 206 victories, 185 losses.

He broke into pro ball in 1948 in with the Cardinals' farm system and played in every class of minor league ball. Among the top minor league clubs he played with are Omaha, Houston, New Orleans and Denver. He was brought up with the parent Cards in the spring of 1952 when "Red" Schoendienst was a holdout. But, when Schoendienst came to terms, Weaver's short major league career ended.

Weaver joined the Baltimore system at the end of the '56 season after serving as the player-manager for the final of the Knoxville (Class A Sally league) club for the final six weeks. He replaced Dick Bartell, former major league shortstop.

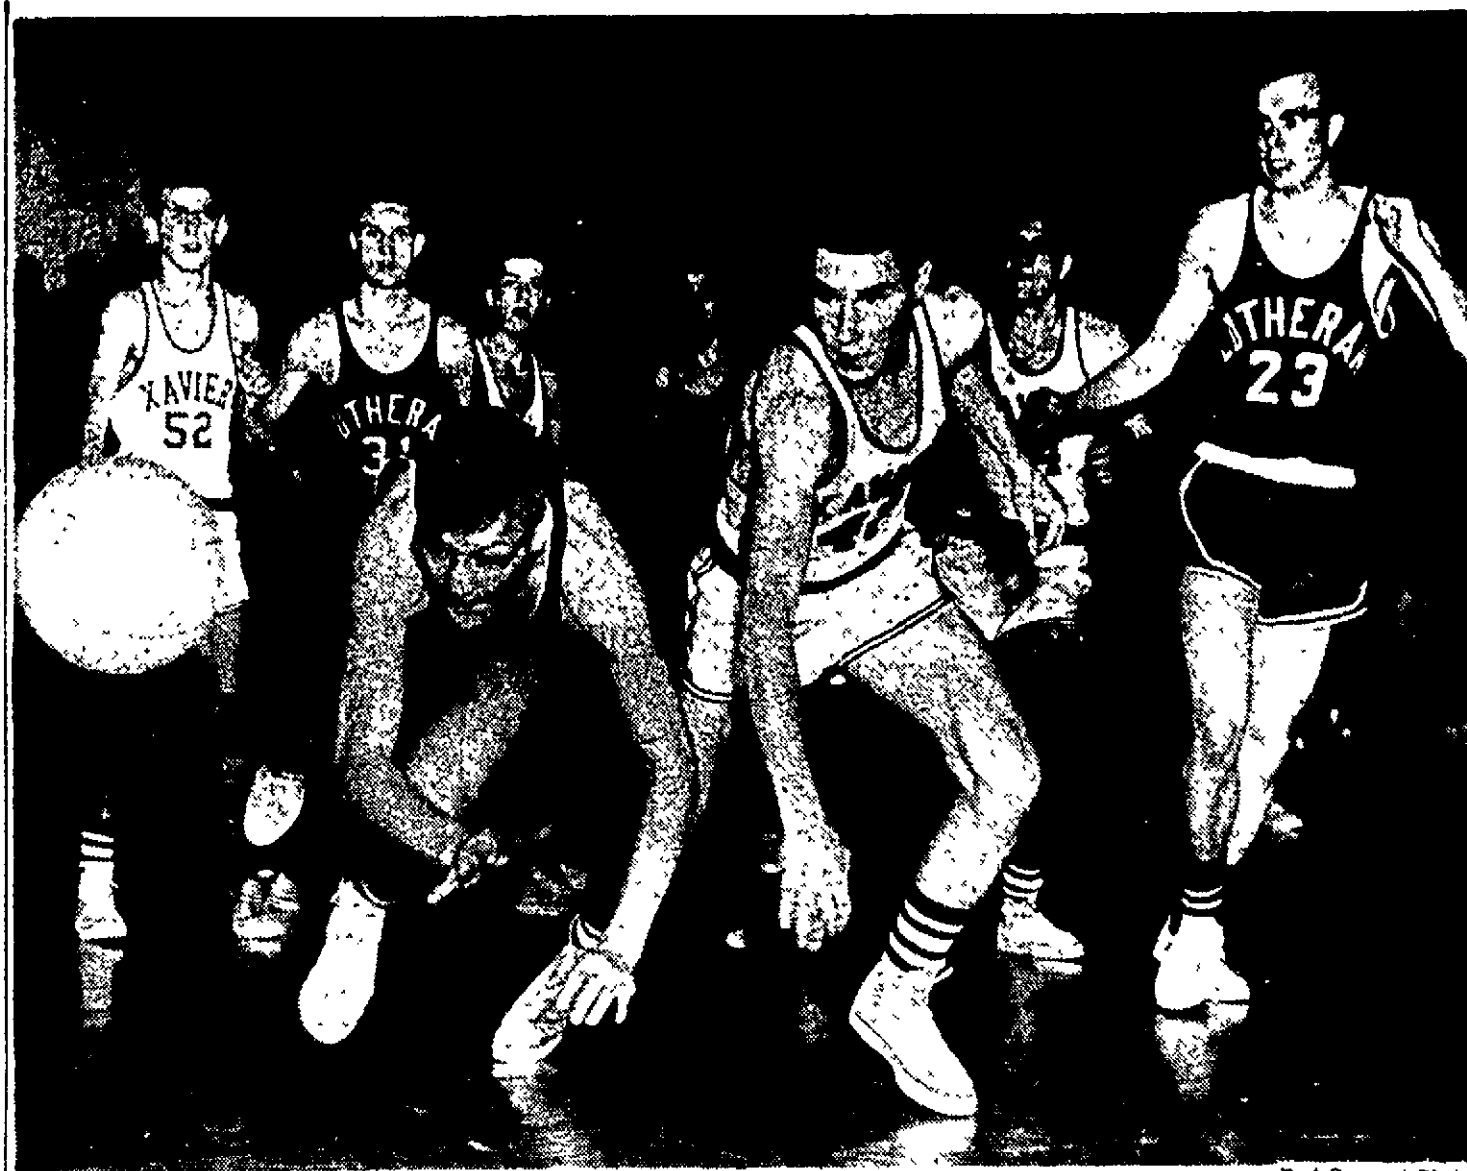

Hofman Teammate
One of Weaver's teammates on athletic teams at Beaumont High school, St. Louis, was Bobby Hofman, who will manage one of the Foxes' rivals, Sioux City, in 1960.

Such other major leaguers as Roy Sievers and pitcher Bob Wiesler have also been turned out by the same high school.

Weaver is married and the father of three children: Mike (9), Rhonda Lee (7) and Theresa Ann (2). He plans to move his family here during the season. He makes his winter home in Richmond Heights, Mo., a St. Louis suburb, and works for a loan company.

A fiery type of manager, Weaver was ejected by umpires from seven games in '59. He says that although he fights for his team at all times, he is not an umpire "baiter."

Weaver also informed Busi-

Milt Gets Kick Out of Booter

Bruhn Says Holzwarth Is 'Almost Perfect' From Inside the 25 or 30

Pasadena, Calif. —(A)—Karl Holzwarth gets his kicks — handle," Bruhn said. "Others can boot them further but Karl is almost perfect from inside the 25 or 30 yard lines."

Holzwarth feels that he is in top form right now and will be at game time. This season he kicked 10 straight extra points for the Badgers and set a National Collegiate Athletic association record of seven field goals in nine attempts.

Bruhn points out that Holzwarth doesn't appear to be a specialist when you see him on the field. He tips the scales at a full 250 pounds and is six feet tall. But he played a major role in Wisconsin's march to the Big Ten conference championship with only 60 minutes of action.

"I could kick longer field goals when I was in high school," Holzwarth said, "but I've picked up a considerable amount of weight since then and I think that cuts down on my distance."

Hasn't Hampered
Holzwarth said the weight prevents him from getting as much snap in his leg as he would like to have but it hasn't hampered his accuracy.

"I like the ball held by one finger and not the palm of the hand," he said. "I can get a little more distance that way."

Though he saw only 31 minutes of playing time in regulation games last year he continued to practice his kicking for a half hour every day and was ready when Bruhn called on him this season.

"Naturally, I think about the pressure when I'm sent in to kick," Holzwarth says, "but there hasn't been much pressure on me. I'm ready for Washington if I'm needed."

try and Bartmann snared the rebound. Rog was fouled by Captain at :04 and he converted the first of two for 51-49.

Zeegers unleashed a 50-footer which almost tied the game as the horn went off.

Held to four points in the first two stanzas, the jump-shooting Bartmann finished with 19 for game scoring honors. He made just one of his nine first half floor shots but 7-for-11 in the last 16 minutes, many of them 30-footers.

Ron Schmidt coined 10 and Darrell Mindel nine for the winners and the pair, with Jack Kitowski, dominated rebounds — especially in the second half. Kitowski counted just two points but he was the game's top board man.

Zeegers Tops

Dead-eye Zeegers was tops for the losers on 18 points, and he collected his seven buckets on only 16 shots. The hard-driving Lueck counted 13 while Captain totaled eight—all but two in the first quarter.

Lueck and Zeegers were the top Xavier rebounders but down the stretch they just couldn't cope with the bigger hosts.

Xavier made half of its 22 free throws while Coach Gerhard Kaniess Roehl's operatives converted only seven in 20 tries for 35 per cent.

After their first quarter press failed, the Foxes found great success with a man-for-man defense. They held the Hawks to just nine baskets and 26 points in the last three quarters. Xavier stuck with a zone until forced to come out of it in the fourth quarter.

The Hawks made only one fielder in 12 second period shots but had only two points chopped off their lead for 29-19 halftime edge.

They were still 10 points in front (34-24) close to midway

Foxes exploded for ten straight points.

Schmidt put in a short-range try and Bartmann two straight long shots. Lueck dropped a free throw and then a 15-footer. Bartmann coined a 15-footer and then Mindel batted in a rebound for the Foxes' first lead (37-24) with 25 seconds to go in the third frame. Lueck's 17-footer cut it to 37-36 just before the hectic final eight minutes.

ed a devastating runner after recovering from an injury.

Lamar McHan, who spent five undistinguished seasons toiling for the Chicago Cardinals, proved a first-rate quarterback after Lombardi acquired him for a high 1960 draft choice. When McHan was injured, Vinnie Swisher to Bart Starr and the youngster turned in a fine job as signal caller and passer.

Lombardi, father of two children, launched his coaching career at St. Cecilia High school in Englewood, N.J. His teams won six state titles in eight years and at one stage piled up 36 straight victories. He went to Fordham, his alma mater, as freshman coach in 1947. His next step up as backfield coach under Blaik at Army helped the 1949 Cadets to an unbeaten season and a 38-0 victory over Navy.

Giants Expect Alex Webster To be Ready

New York —(A)—The New York Giants began their final week of preparations for the National Football league title game with the Baltimore Colts today on a frozen, snow-crusted Yankee stadium turf happy with the fact that half-back Alex Webster is expected to be at full strength for the game.

Webster has been suffering from a bruised back that kept him out of the final game against Washington. He was the only regular in questionable shape for the battle with the Western conference champions at Baltimore this Sunday.

But Coach Jim Lee Howell fully expects his hard-running halfback to be ready.

Winter Slips in With Snowy Trail

Northeastern Section of Nation Reels Under Blanket of White

Winter slipped into the Fox Cities today under a layer of clouds at 8:35 a.m. At 9:50 a.m. Mother Nature greeted her new arrival with a light snowfall. Christmas may be white.

A year ago today winter entered the Fox Cities amid sunny skies and a temperature of 36. The minimum that day was 11. One and one half inches of snow lay on the ground.

The state traffic patrol this morning said highways in Wisconsin are dry and clear except north of Green Bay along Highway 41.

Nation Shivering
In other sections of the nation, winter found the northeast shivering under a vast blanket of snow as deep as 10 inches in some spots.

Travelers crept along treacherously icy highways. Schools closed in some areas. Emergency crews moved in quickly to keep traffic moving where possible. Trains were late. Air traffic was slightly delayed.

Heavy Winds
Heavy winds whipped the snow across a region stretching from the Great Lakes east through Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and parts of New England. The Atlantic Coast in New Jersey and New York appeared hardest hit.

The weather bureau said the storm was expected to end tonight throughout the area.

In New York City, seven inches piled up before the snowfall ended.

Roads Clogged
All arteries into the city were clogged with traffic during the morning rush hour. The storm knocked out some subways and others were running late.

In Rockland county, N. Y., the snow was 10 inches deep

Prices Mixed On Exchange

Electronics, Steels And Motors Gain In Moderate Trade

New York—(U)—Steels, motors and electronics made gains in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point.

A scattering of selected stocks, particularly among the electronics, did better, scoring gains of 2 or 3 points.

Turnover was down considerably from Monday when the Dow Jones industrial average for the second time in a week failed to hold a gain which would have put it above the closing record high.

Most of the coppers moved a bit higher following news of a price boost by a big Belgian producer. Oils, rails, electrical equipments and most chemicals drifted off.

Hope of a steel strike settlement perked up again with the agreement by steel management to company-by-company negotiations. Jones & Laughlin picked up more than 2 points, Republic Steel more than a point and U.S. Steel about a point.

Chrysler recovered about a point. Ford and General Motors added fractions. American Motors was around a point higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 20 cents to $228.80 with the industrials off 10 cents, the rails off 40 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Long range U.S. government bonds declined to new historic lows.

The fire loss was in excess of $100,000 including office and advertising supplies as well as the building.

Youth Fined $100 for Wall Crash, Ride

Car Went Through Brick Ledge, Ran Atop It for 234 Feet

John W. Jirikowic, 20, of 727 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna, whose car early Saturday rammed a brick wall, then ran along the top of it on two wheels, today in municipal court was fined $100 and his driver's license was revoked for eight months on a charge of inattentive driving.

Jirikowic told police he fell asleep as he drove along Highway 96 about half a mile east of French road. His car rammed through a 2-foot thick, 34-foot high brick wall, then traveled with two wheels atop the wall for 234 feet. Jirikowic received a head bump and mouth cut, his passenger bumps and bruises.

The license revocation was withheld on the condition Jirikowic use his car only for driving to and from work. The conviction will cost him three points, the accident three more against his driving record.

Had Accident

George J. LeNoble, 22, of 321 S. Wilson street, Little Chute, was fined $15 and charged three points for failing to yield the right-of-way. He was charged after an accident Wednesday at Drew and Atlantic streets. The accident will cost him three more points.

Donald J. Loker, 18, of 1832 N. Oneida street, and Gary L. Dobratz, 21, Zachow, were fined $10 and charged three points for ignoring stop signs.

Robert F. Cottrell, 22, of 1008 N. Superior street, was fined $15 and charged three points for speeding.

James E. Kerrigan, 22, of 206 1/2 E. College avenue, denied he drove too fast for conditions and posted $43.95 bond for July 5 trial. He was charged after a Wednesday accident in the 500 block of E. College.

William J. Wilk, 24, of 616 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna, denied leaving the scene of an accident Sunday in the 200 block of E. Wisconsin avenue and posted $78.95 bond for July 5 trial.

Kresge Employees Will Get Christmas Bonus
Approximately 80 employees of the Appleton S. S. Kresge store will receive cash Christmas remembrances, according to H. J. Steckling, manager.

This is the 39th year the company, which has its main offices in Detroit, has given employees cash bonuses at Christmas. The schedule covers both full and part-time employees working on Dec. 24 who were hired before Dec. 1. Payments vary according to the length of time spent working for the company.

Pair Denies Attempted Coin Theft

Two men who were caught in the Lauderite Coin Operated laundry, 813 W. College avenue, early Saturday morning by police today in municipal denied charges of possessing burglary tools and attempted theft.

Kent L. Cox, 27, and Charles E. Sears, 38, both of Louisville, Ky., were jailed when they could not post $1,000 bond. A hearing was set for Jan. 12.

Cox and Sears were captured as they attempted to pry a coin box off the wall at the laundry. They told police that a coin inserted in the change-maker failed to return and no change came out. In their car police found a 19-year-old Janesville hitchhiker, later released, and a cloth money bag from Woodstock, Ill., a bag of keys, a money bag with about $60 in change in it and several coin slugs.

Police have no information on whether the men are wanted elsewhere, but several state cities have indicated an interest in questioning the pair on recent service station and laundry coinbox thefts.

Sears has an extensive police record, including a federal conviction for mail theft.

Ice Holiday Gross Lags

Brown County Gets $28,250 for Arena Event; Less Than '58

Green Bay—(U)—Holiday on Ice, which played at the Veterans Memorial arena Dec. 8-13, brought Brown county a gross share of $28,250, which was $6,313 less than the gross county share for the ice show in 1958.

The county clerk's office reported today that the show this year recorded a gross revenue of $75,051. After payment of federal admission taxes of $4,425, the show contract both this year and last called for a split of the remainder with 60 per cent going to Holiday on Ice and 40 per cent to Brown county.

The division this year was $42,375 to the show and $28,250 to the county. Promotional and other expenses, however, remain to be totaled and deducted from the county share. Last year, the arena had $14,218 in expenses which left the county profit from the show at $20,345.

Major Event

The show last year was the first major event after the arena opened and recorded a gross of $95,051. The show received $51,845, and the county share before deduction of expenses was $34,563.

A report of the state department of audit received by the county board last week reported that the county had lost $50,306 in arena operations as of Aug. 31. The report, however, noted that the largest revenue producer of the year, the ice show, was not included in the audit.

Firm Designs New Rail Car

Refrigeration Techniques Changed For Green Bay Road

Green Bay—A unique steel refrigerator railroad car with a development that may revolutionize refrigerated shipping has been built by the Western Refrigerator Lines company, Green Bay, for the Green Bay and Western Lines.

The car is known technically as an RBL-refrigerator boxcar-loader. It is a standard-sized, steel car with walls containing a layer of insulation 5 1/2 inches thick.

The revolutionary device is a new type of compartment divider developed by the railroad loading division of the Evans Products company, Plymouth, Mich. It is a solid all-steel gate that can be moved back and forth in the car to divide it into compartments of any size. It runs on ball-bearing rollers along tracks set into the floor, roof and sides of the car, and although it weighs 1,800 pounds, it can be moved by one man.

Replaces Bulkheads

The new car contains two of these dividers, replacing the old-fashioned wooden bulkheads that have to be installed and removed by hand—an inefficient process in this day of longer freight trains. The steel divider is being tested for six months by the GB & W, which also is having a second car built. The first car cost about $15,000 to design and build.

The car building company, although little known by Green Bay residents, has been in existence since 1928, working almost exclusively for the GB & W.

Pope Broadcasts Christmas Message At Noon Wednesday

Vatican City—(U)—Pope John XXIII will deliver his annual Christmas message to the world at noon Wednesday over the Vatican radio.

Various national radio networks will be hooked up for the Vatican radio for the broadcast. They will include networks of Italy, France, Belgium, Ireland, Monaco and Malta.

Rebroadcasts will be made later by networks in Great Britain, West Germany, Austria, by Radio Free Europe and NBC in the United States.

Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday, the Vatican radio will broadcast translation of the address in more than a score of languages.

The mass that Pope John will celebrate at midnight Christmas in the Vatican's Pauline chapel also will be broadcast by the Vatican radio.

At noon Christmas day, the Vatican radio will broadcast the blessing of Urbi et Orbi—to the city and the world—that the pontiff will pronounce from the loggia above the central door of St. Peter's basilica. It also will carry his brief message to people in St. Peter's square.
